FORWARD . . .

I am your Zephyrus.

Commemorating my 60th year of service,
I give myself to you in memory of the old Astoria High School building which is now to rest after fifty years of academic service.

Turning back the yellowed pages of Time
heartwarming memories, shared together by many Astoria High students are uncovered.

Back when your mother or father was in school,
the auditorium, now burned and charred,
was the scene of graduations and school programs.
I remember the time when the junior class was selling war bonds in competition with the other classes and put on an assembly called
"School-at-War."

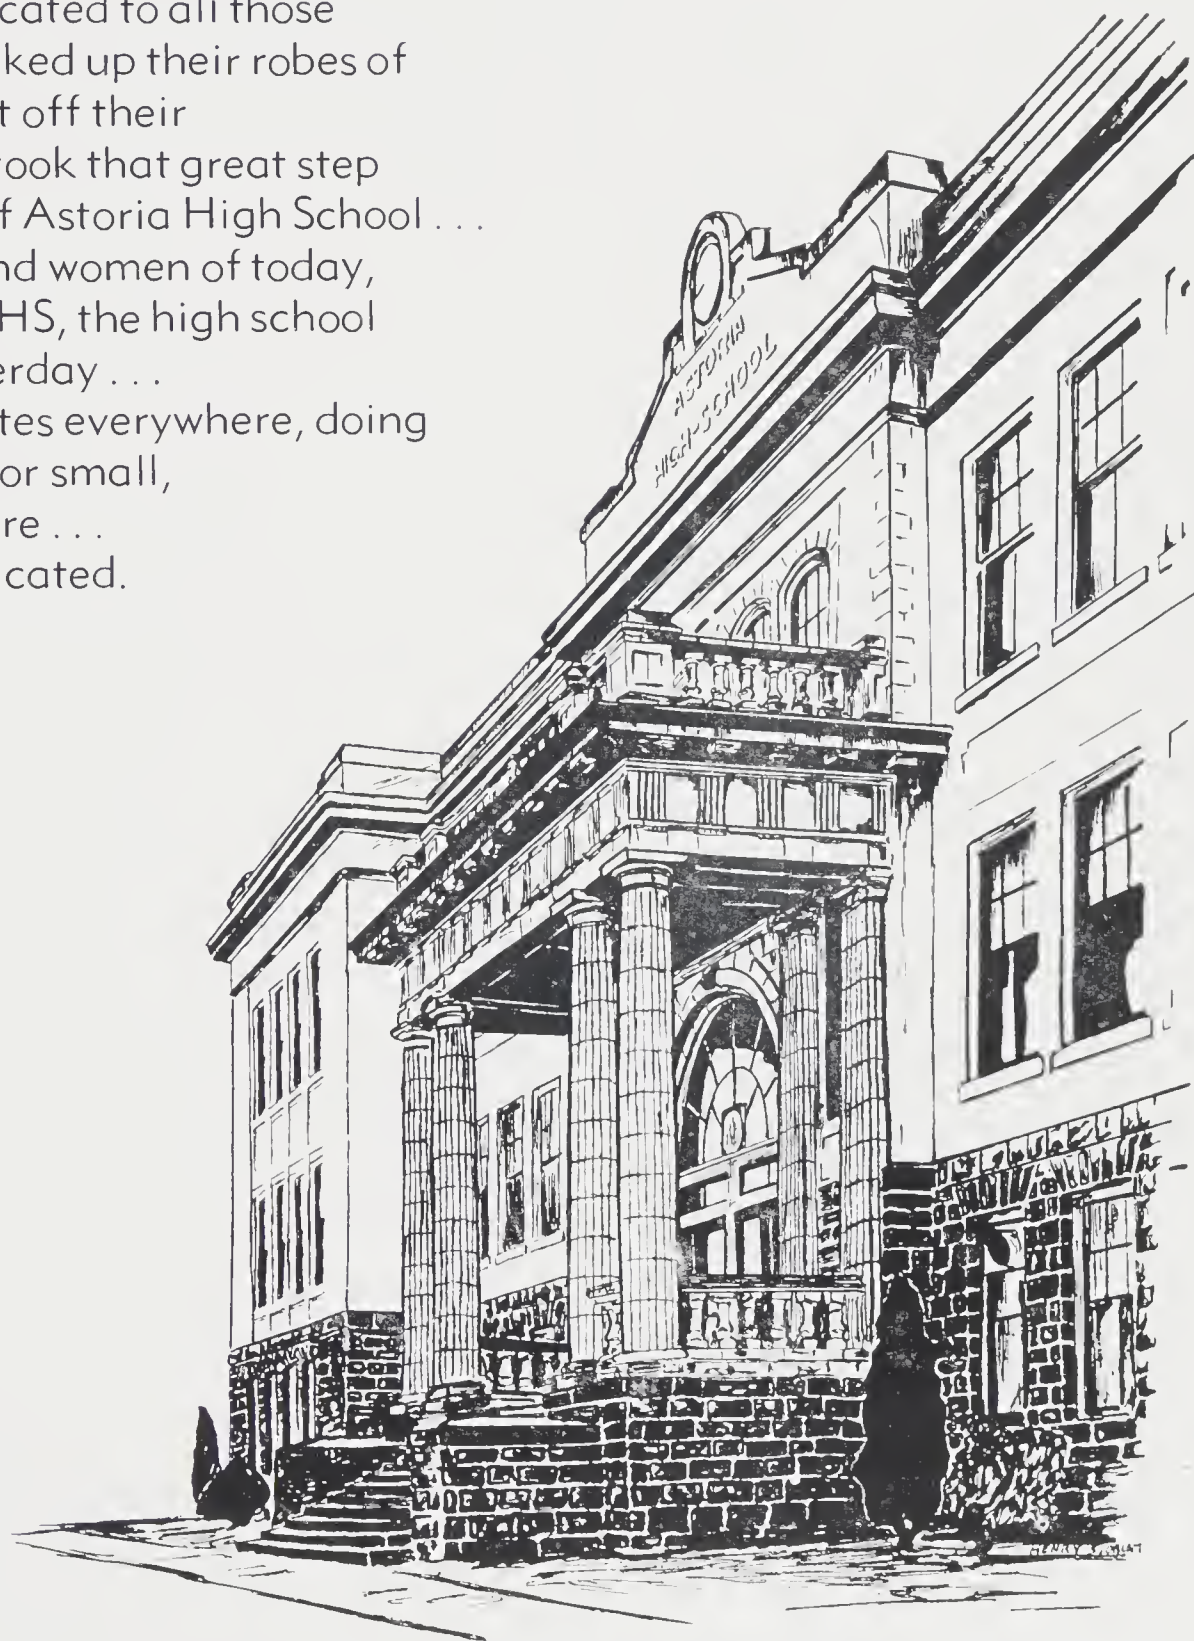

Recent memories include gala pep assemblies complete with the rally squad, pepsters, and the fisherettes.

With a special sigh I recall the many personalities who gave life to the school, who made the good times and the bad.

Yes, those and many more are the memories embedded into the hearts of those who lived them.
And this old building,
lying down to rest,
hidden by the Underbrush of Age,
choked with the Ivy of Experience,
will be cherished in memory . . . FOREVER!

DEDICATION . . .

This book is dedicated to all those Students who picked up their robes of Wisdom and cast off their Baby wings and took that great step
From the Halls of Astoria High School . . .
To all the men and women of today,
The alumni of AHS, the high school
Students of yesterday . . .
To those graduates everywhere, doing
Anything, great or small,
Noted or mediocre . . .
This book is dedicated.

ADMINISTRATION

Instructing and reprimanding,
Yet taking pride in student
Accomplishments
The friendly hand which guides
Youthful steps
Along the trail of life
Is called the Administration.

COLINETTE FENANDER

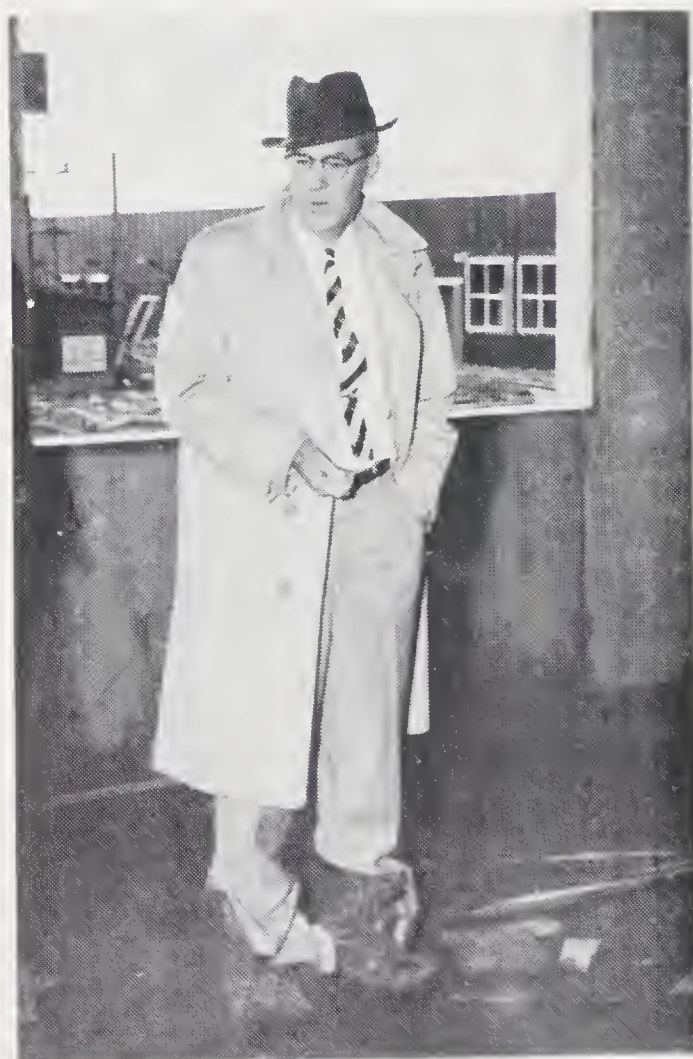

SUPERINTENDENT!

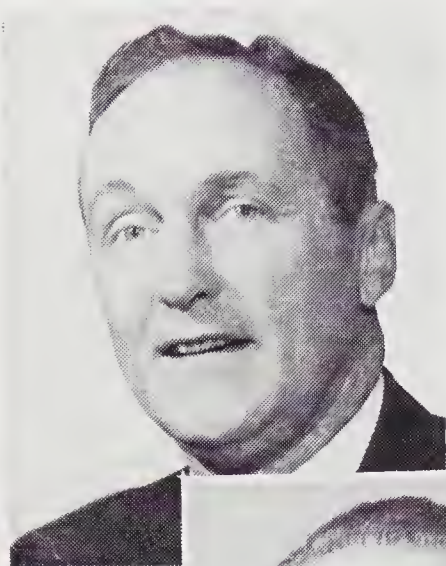

Mr. Wells at his desk.

MR. WELLS STATED:

"Although it is not my privilege to work directly with the students of Astoria High School, I find my association with you rewarding. Your actions, your accomplishments, and your spirit are a never-ending source of pride to me. Although the conditions under which you have studied and worked in our present facilities have not been the best your accomplishments have been outstanding. It is my sincere hope and I'm sure the hope of all the people of Astoria that the new high school building will be an inspiration to all of you."

Dig that "muddy Wells"!

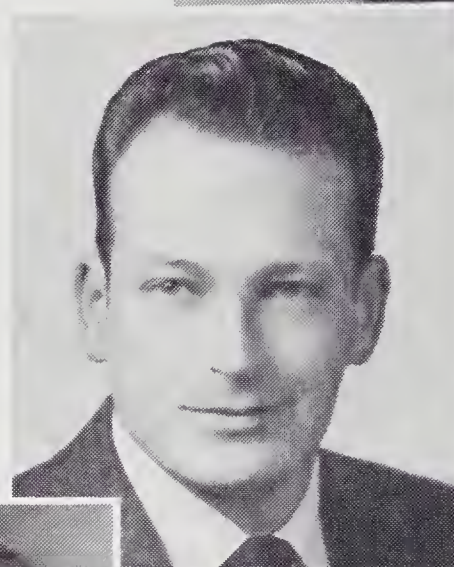

Dr. E. Harvey

Mr. K. Gimre

Dr. E. Palmrase

Mr. R. Graves

Ethlyn Lindstrom
Chairman

A small group of Astoria citizens, our school board, meets together regularly with Mr. Wells, school superintendent. These citizens have the responsibility of hiring new teachers and making ends meet financially for the school. Also, they carry now on their shoulders the burden of building the new school. And they are not paid! Those long nights spent talking over school problems are voluntary. There is no school "draft" board, no hiring to be done, and no flowery speeches later, just work and time given freely.

Their unselfish attitude shows their great loyalty to the school district.

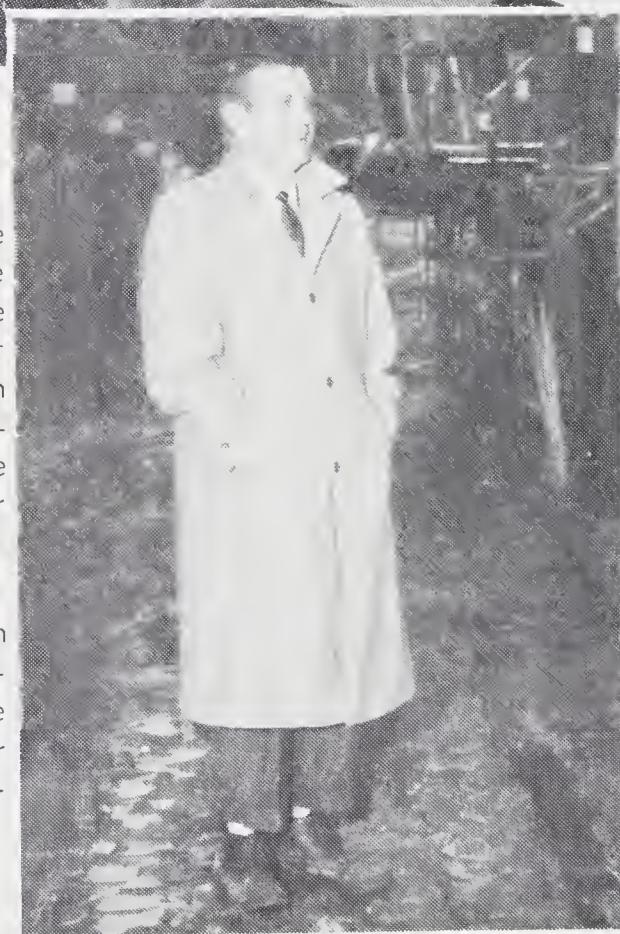

P R I N C I P A L

Mr. Lind says,

"Astorio High School students have concluded another year in the school building that has served the community of Astoria for almost half a century. Morale has been high, and the students both enthusiastic and cooperative. The progress we have made together has been most satisfactory.

"Next year we will be settled on our new campus. There the rewards will be even greater, for we cannot help but be inspired by our attractive surroundings and modern educational equipment."

I never thought I'd see the day!

Counselor, chief attendance keeper for girls, chairman of scholarships, nurse, social education teacher, sophomore English teacher, and friend is Miss Margaret Upham, Astoria High's Dean of Girls.

Encouraging the girls to attend school as much as possible, Miss Upham feels is most important of all her many duties. Attendance is vital if students are to gain as much from school as possible. In regards to Astoria's attendance and attitude record, Miss Upham commented, "The girls of Astoria High have a good record of attendance in comparison with other schools. Most of the girls really like being in school."

Miss Upham enjoys being a friend to the girls and talking to them in their spare time. She is always ready to listen to any problems which confront them.

As she likes to work with people she finds her job very satisfactory and enjoyable.

DEANS

Mr. Eugene Sorenson is dean of boys. Although he has no classes, he seems to be constantly busy giving advice about college courses, enrolling transfer students, talking to students suspended temporarily from class, admitting the "ten o'clock scholar," changing students' schedules of classes and conferring with teachers, juvenile officers, parents and police.

Mr. Sorenson says, "The most interesting and satisfying experience is working with a student who realizes he has a problem and wants help in arriving at a satisfactory solution."

MAINTENANCE

Superintending the grounds and buildings keeps Mr. "Scotty" Clark, our Maintenance Supervisor, quite busy. Mr. John Peterson and Mr. Ray Taylor work different shifts operating the furnace, cleaning rooms and repairing furniture and equipment.

Mrs. Smith and her assistant, Mrs. Reimers, cook appetizing lunches for our cafeteria. Both ladies say that they like it here but will be happy when the new school is opened in the fall.

When asked his opinion of the executive council President Neil Morfitt stated:

"Each year student government becomes a more vital part of the overall picture of high school life. Though we do not receive a grade on our school report cards for our student council work, the acceptance of responsibilities as leaders as well as followers will be a determining factor in the future.

"The year could not have been outstanding without the backing of the entire student body."

Morfitt presiding over the meeting.

The members of the Executive Council seated around the table left to right are Danay Williams, second vice-president, Keith Korpela, first vice-president, Judy Hein, secretary, Neil Morfitt, president, Karen Johnson, treasurer, Hal Snow, third vice-president, and Clayton Johnson, fourth vice-president. Looking over their shoulders is Mr. Lind, a adviser.

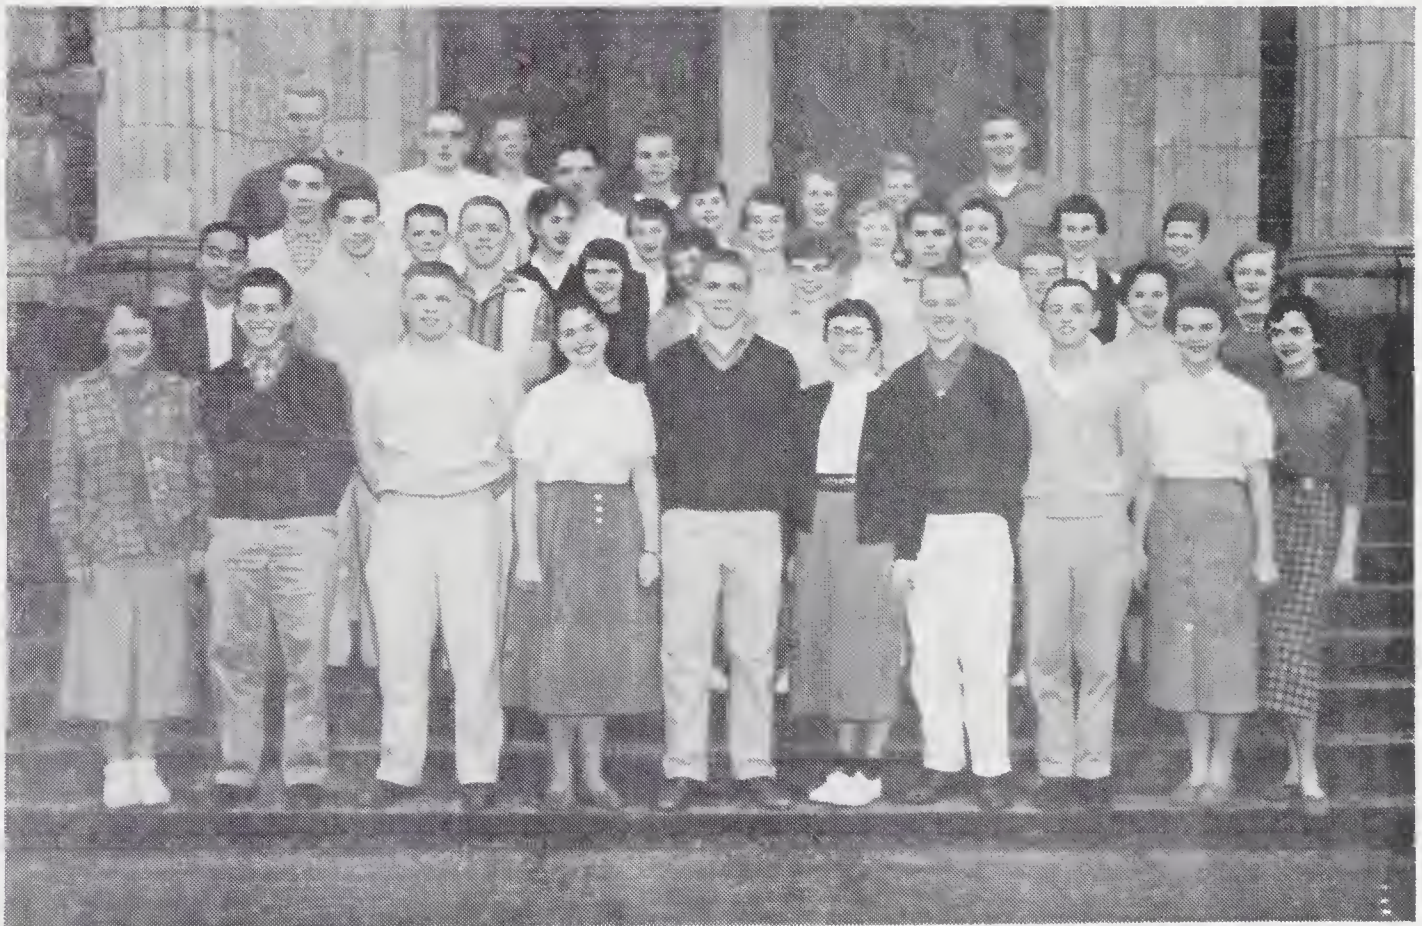

STUDENT COUNCIL

The student council, composed of student body officers and room representatives, has guided school activities, such as Homecoming and the March of Dimes campaign.

We took part in Region III Student Council meetings. A complete student council for both semesters is pictured below.

Standing in the front row from left to right the members of the student council are Barbara Bozanich, Hal Snow, Keith Korpela, Judy Hein, Neil Morfitt, Karen Johnson, Danny Williams, Clayton Johnson, Linda Thompson, and Joanne Steele. Pictured in the second row are Ken Wong, Jim Ferguson, Bob Canessa, Eleanor Olson, Nanette Shatto, Mary Kaitera, Tom Stokes, Sonja Norgaard, Janyce Nephew and Millie Hartstrom. In the third row are Leif Erickson, Gary Wood, Sue Rafferty, Linda Williams, Marian Hauke, Shirley Olsvick, Sandra Osterlund, Bridget Leigh and JoAnn Storaasli. In the back row are Gary Manners, Brian Paaso, Ted White, Harvey Cottrell, Al Saxberg, Laurie Nephew, Karen Mellin, Gail Hauke, and Ed Weber.

Mrs. Janet Craven, left, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bentley performing some of their endless duties as A. H. S. office heads.

Office Staff

Mrs. Bentley
Office Secretary

Mrs. Craven
Office Assistant

The office at Astoria High has been kept running smoothly through the efforts of Mrs. Bentley, school secretary, and Mrs. Craven, assistant secretary.

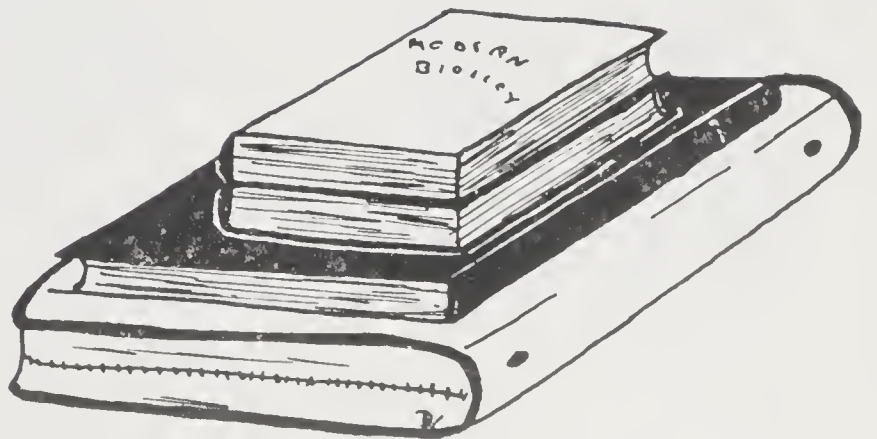

While Mrs. Bentley takes care of all the bills and transcripts, keeps the permanent records complete, and takes letters from Mr. Lind, Mrs. Craven is busy with the register and her job as Library secretary.

Both women mimeograph ,type, and run the ditto machine.

CLASSES

Yes, classes are like crews
Sailing together on the Good ship, Learning, through
Many days of Seeking and Discovery,
To the tropical islands of Friendship,
Cooperation and Teamwork, stopping
At the ports of Academic Education to Receive rich cargoes of English,
History, social science, biology,
And math . . .
Yet they occasionally sail off
Into the cherished canals of Fellowship,
Fun, and Laughter.
But they are always dreading
The day the ship docks in the Harbor of Graduation, when shipmates
Must say goodbye,
When a new crew takes over.

COLINETTE FENANDER

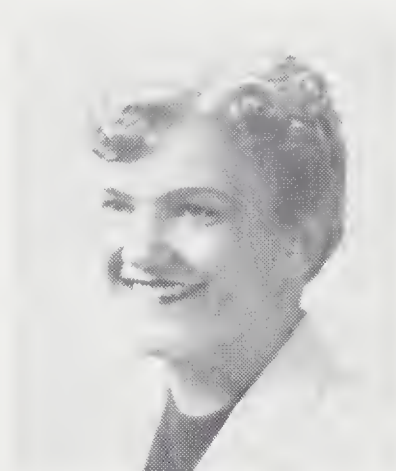

SENIOR INTRODUCTION

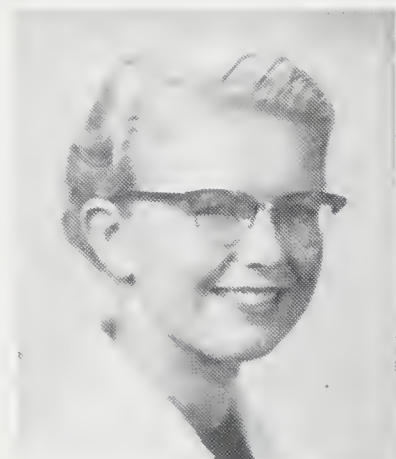

Graduation brings to an end a four-year span that has brought the class of '57 many honors and life-time highlights which will always be remembered.

The teamwork and loyalty of the class to one another and everyone else has been an inspiration to the school. Their participation in sports, school government, extra-curricular and community activities has given outstanding proof of this.

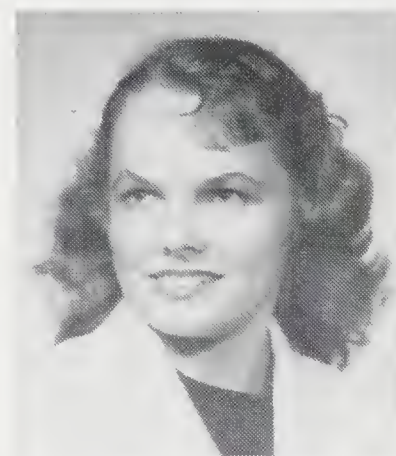

We're sure that as these members establish themselves in a community that these qualities will make them good American citizens.

JUNIOR CLASS...

... "And the followers of today shall be the leaders of tomorrow." This motto has been the inspiration behind the industrious class of '58 since they took their timid look at the hallowed halls of AHS.

Now, after three years of successful activities, including a MEXICAN FIESTA and a DATE IN DISNEYLAND, one hundred seventy-five zealous "upper-classmen" still put their time and talents together. The constructed WINKEN, BLYNKEN, AND NOD, a homecoming float, and played host to the student body with an "out-of-this-world" Junior Prom.

The Juniors realize that next year will find them the leaders, the first seniors on the new campus. They are eager to set a good example.

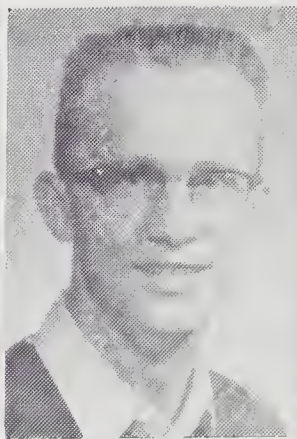

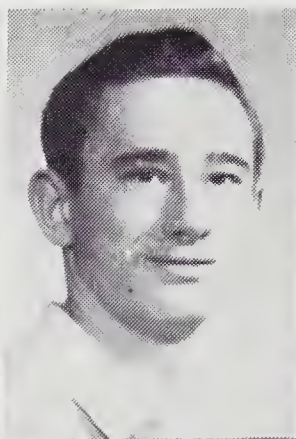

A big responsibility goes hand in hand with the long-awaited privilege of being mighty Seniors, but the Class of '58 has "Gumption," perseverance, and talent, and is determined to make the final year at AHS a profitable one that will be remembered by many in the years to come.

"Two years here and two years there," could well be the theme of the class of 1959, for now after two fun-filled school years in the old AHS building, the Sophomores will pick up next fall in the new school with two successive years to go.

The years "here" have been memory-packed for the gay sophomores. Most predominant are the glimpses of "Woke The Town and Tell The People," and "King Neptune and His Court," its two Homecoming floats. Other outstanding memories include the Fresh Frolic, Soph Hop, and pep assembly skits.

In this, their sophomore year, the '59'ers found that Julius Caesar, Hungarian relief, IRL activities, selecting class rings, and biology absorbed most of their time and interests.

After this successful half of their high school career, the '59'ers are full of ambition to make the last half twice as good as the first, with their headquarters at the new school.

A proud new voice joined the chorus of AHS Fishermen this year—the class of 1960.

Armed with school spirit and pencils they began their high school days with enthusiasm.

Time and time again the peppy group cheered the Fingerlings on to victory at Frosh games. They were also active rooters at Metro League games. Their pep assembly skit, $64,000 question, was complete with a make-shift isolation booth, MC, commercials, and contestants. Naturally, the questions centered around the winning of our next game.

In addition to being sports-minded this enthusiastic group presented a "fabulous" frosh frolic and homecoming float. Scholastically speaking the freshmen studied hard and rated above average on their IQ and reading tests.

COLINETTE FENANDER

Leading the Girls' League through the '56-'57 school year are left to right: Judie Smethurst, vice president; Nancy Storaasli, president; Nancy Reith, senior representative; Kristina Pernu, sophomore representative; Nancy Springer, secretary; Kothy Astola, treasurer; Lourie Nephew, junior representative; Denyse Sehorn, flag-bearer; and Judy Hreho, scrapbook keeper. Not pictured is the freshman class representative, Judy Glascoe.

From collecting dues in the fall, to spring election of officers for '57-'58, this year has been jam-packed for the Girls' League. Announcing the latest Girl-of-the-Months, a talk on nursing careers, a Christmas party, choosing candidates for Regatta Princesses, and a Big-Little Sister party have been included on various agendas for league meetings.

AHS'ers were reminded of religious meaning of Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter with assemblies planned by this feminine organization. Fishermen celebrated February 14 at the Girls' League-sponsored noon Valentine Dance.

Food sales held by each class netted money for the scholarship given to a deserving lassie. The fact that these girls took over the Easter Lily Sale seems again to say, "Never underestimate the power of a woman"—especially one at AHS.

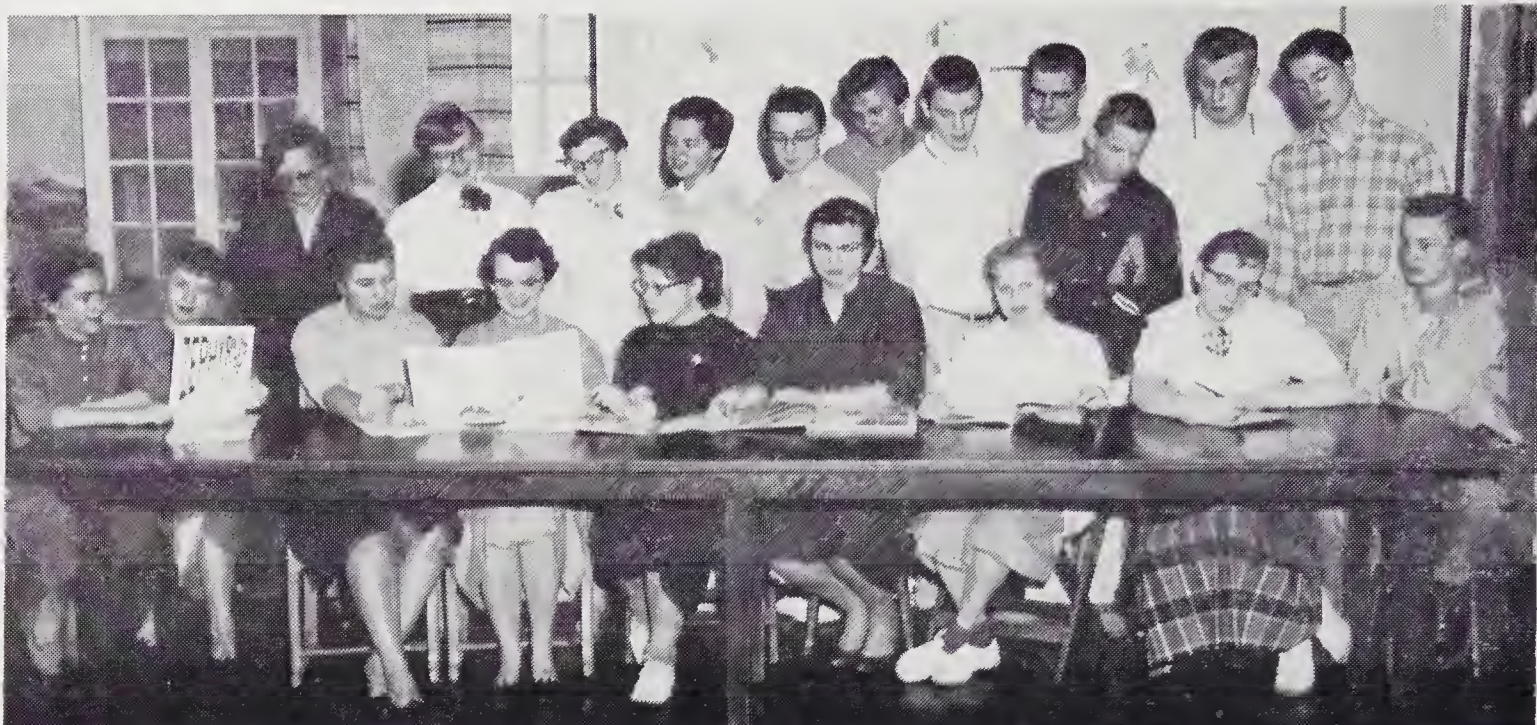

The Boys' Federation has benefitted each boy who has attended its meetings. Activities have been aimed at improving personalities, conduct, and career knowledge of masculine AHS'ers. The cabinet planned a program which strived to inform the boys about possible future work. Because of talks by speakers representing West Point Military Academy, the Coast Guard, Army, and Navy, the boys understand entrance qualifications and life in these organizations. A film "Quarterback," comparing a businessman's job to that of a football player, was another part of the career information program.

A special committee in charge of school ground appearance has seen to it that AHS has been neat as a pin.

The ideas which have sprouted with this year's Boys' Federation will have ample room to mature in "new" AHS.

"HMMMM, very good!" says Joanne Steele, editor of the yearbook.

Publishing our year book, the Zephyrus, involves a lot more work than many people realize.

The book must be planned with appropriate theme, dedication and style. The old building, seemed a doubly fitting theme as this is the fiftieth and last year it would be used to house AHS. The staff felt that the AHS students should be honored in the dedication.

Layouts need to be made in duplicate for each page, copy must be written and pictures need to be taken as events occur before a book can be assembled and sent to the printers.

Valuable experience in writing, creating and working together is gained by the staff.

A typical shot of the Zephyrus staff busy at work, writing captions.

The Ad and Editoriol Staffs, Colinette Fenonder, Leona Groham, Roald Berg, Marian Houke, and Rolph Norgoord are hard at work.

ZEPHYRUS

STAFF

Mr. Jensen snaps Astorian-Budget printer as he explains his work to Leana Graham and Joanne Steele.

The business staff has made an innovation this year by soliciting sponsorships from the Astoria merchants to help meet the costs of publication. This has been a common practice of most year books. Nearly the whole staff turned out to help contact the business houses. They appreciate the response given.

Four staff members and Mrs. Christensen gained valuable information and instruction at the press conference in Eugene, which they shared with the others.

Miss Brown and Mrs. Christensen both acted as advisers and helped organize the staff into an efficient unit.

Ready to leave for the Press Conference in Eugene are Marian Hauke, Mary Kaitera, Mrs. Christensen, Joanne Steele and Sandy Winters.

Mary Kaitera negotiates a sponsorship with Gene Lowe, a local merchant.

ASTOR POST

Under the direction of Miss Curry, journalism and English teacher, each day room 11 becomes headquarters for the Astor Post staff. Students buzz between the journalism room and the AP office, the dean's room, and other departments in earnest quest of material for stories assigned to them by editor, Barbara Bozanich and co-assistant editors, Mary Nell Niemi and Susan Rafferty.

Highlights of this year for the Astor Post staff were a high school press conference in Eugene, a journalism conference in Seattle, a potluck dinner, and Quill and Scroll initiation.

Astor Post busy bodies: Mike Foster, Jock Leinenweber, Mary Nell Niemi, Susie Niskanen, Tom Stokes and Linda Williams.

ASTOR POST CUBS

Trying their hands, many for the first time, at putting out a newspaper proved an interesting and profitable experience for the freshman staff of the Cub Times.

Advised by Miss Curry, they discovered that there is much planning, work and excitement behind the printed page.

Writing stories, meeting deadlines and working with others, they succeeded in enjoying themselves as well as putting out some fine papers.

Two editors, Pat and Marge, talk things over.

Meeting the deadline are Vickie Wooldridge and Dana Scott.

Log Staff took advantage of the sun while they worked.

Henry Sjoblom hands Log to Freshman Myron Solo.

Editor Judie Smethurst flashes a smile of satisfaction as final page of log comes off the press.

FISHERMEN'S LOG STAFF

As the name states, this booklet is a log or schedule of events and procedures at AHS. It is a publication put out during the summer by a committee chosen the previous spring by the retiring staff.

Working many hours at the Sjobloms', eight seniors, directed by Mr. Lind, advisor, and Judie Smethurst, editor, produced a valuable handbook.

Juniors and seniors; chosen for their outstanding journalistic work, compose the Curry Chapter of the international honor society known as the Quill and Scroll.

The society strives to develop in its members the ideals of scholarship, exact thinking and clear, forceful writing. They must be in the upper one third of their class scholastically, must present superior work in writing and be a member of one or both staffs.

The formal induction is an impressive candle-light ceremony.

QUILL & SCROLL

Parents watch as their sons and daughters are inducted into the Quill and Scroll during an impressive ceremony.

"Quit stalling and cut the cake!" Fred Hartstrom, Henry Sjablam, and Gayle Carpenter wait for refreshments to be served at the Quill and Scroll induction.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Scholars Ken Wang, Sara Hall and Sharon Ely try their hand at manual labor in the ice cream store.

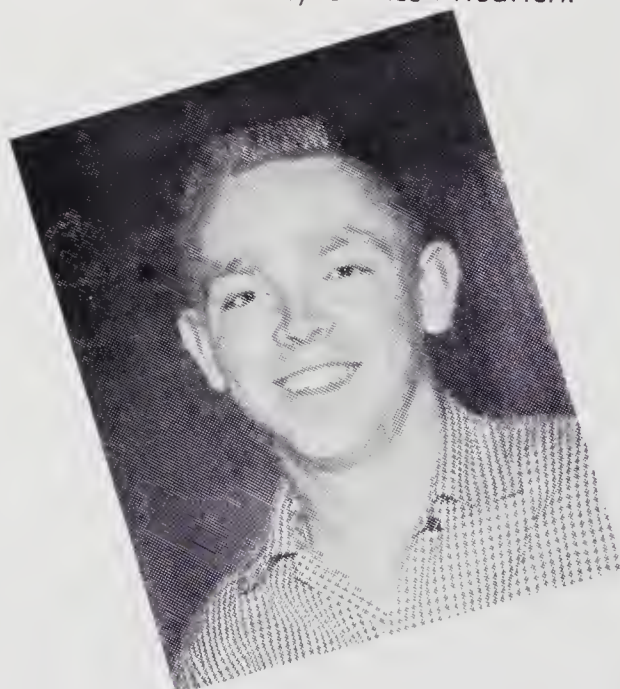

Korpela looks bored with the whale business.

The National Honor Society is comprised of students from the top fourth of the senior and junior classes, chosen for scholarship, service, leadership, and character.

The induction ceremony for new members, an impressive affair, was held in Patriot Hall in February before an audience of parents and students.

Directing activities, including an after-game dance and running the ice cream store for two weeks, is Miss Friedrich.

National Honor Society leader, Bob Canessa.

Sophomores and Freshmen, under the guidance of President Brian Paaso, are listed in the membership of the National Junior Honor Society. Chosen by the faculty for qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service, this group has spent an active year. Included in their activities were a 2nd-prize winning pep assembly skit and an impressive February induction ceremony. These scholastic understudies ended the '56-'57 school year with a picnic, a fitting reward for the hard work put in to gain membership in the society.

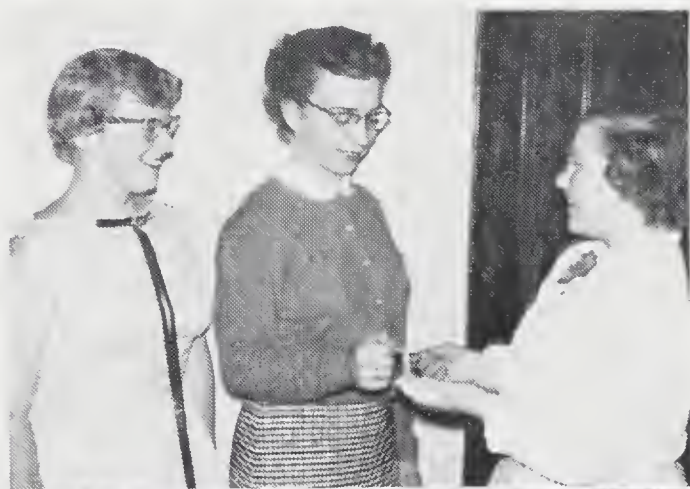

JUNIOR HONOR

Members Susan Amundsen and Kristina Pernu receive membership cards and pins from Secretary Pat Hannu.

"Brains" Dick Seppa, Brian Paasa, Hal Snow earn funds for their honorary organization.

RALLY SQUAD

The industrious Rally Queen,
Linda Thompson.

The three cheerleaders, Carol, Linda and Audrey, lead the Student Body in a snappy yell.

How to unplug the school spirit of every AHS student must be the secret formula discovered by the three peppy members of this year's AHS varsity rally squad. With the aid of a pep jug, Strugar, purple pompoms, and new yellow uniforms, these persuasive lassies have been cheering the Fishermen on to football victories and state basketball tournament during this, their last year at AHS.

Among the duties performed by these ambitious boosters of athletics are composing catchy chants and yells, developing actions for these, and, hardest of all, teaching them to the student body. Pep assemblies, held before each game, are in the hands of the rally squad, assisted by the Pepsters.

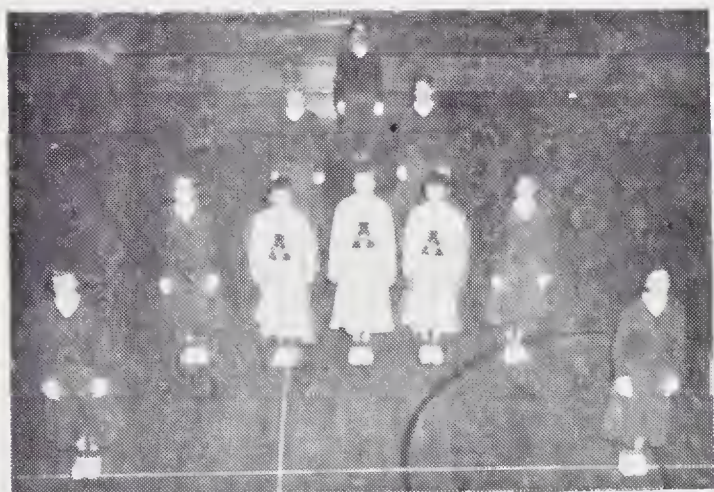

These three sparkling cheerleaders raising their cheerful faces toward the camera are: Carol Pilgard, Linda Thompson and Audrey Maberg.

The seven smiling pepsters who danced during the 1956-57 basketball and football season are: Julie Johnson, Maralee Olsen, Sheryl Hoagland, Gayle Ross, Linda Blomquist, Billie Spohrer and Suzanne England.

PEPSTERS

"Practice makes perfect," must be the motto of the Astoria High pepsters. Performing in perfect rhythm, after hours of composing and practicing routines to old and new songs, is the custom of this select group. Twirling smoothly through routines at nearly every major sports function at AHS the pepsters have entertained both the townspeople and students.

Pepsters and Rally Squad form an "A".
Alternate Linda Williams picks up routine from Maralee Olsen.

Junior pepsters, Gayle Ross, Linda Blomquist and Julie Johnson practice routines.

JV and FROSH RALLY

Cheering their way through J.V. games this year have been the five pert-n-peppy members of the Soph Rally Squad. Far from confining their activities to yelling at games, these aggressive girls were kept busy devising new routines, organizing the "fifty-niner's" pep assembly, pioneering the idea of letters for underclass AHS rally squads, and serving on the Soph executive council. The girls all plan to carry into the new school their work of boosting spirit and morale of the Fishermen.

After fun-filled try-outs and a suspenseful election the first job of the new Frosh Rally Squad was orienting themselves to their new position. The girls found that in spite of small attendance, enthusiasm ran high at games. Saturday practices at the "Y", pre-game dinners at the home of squad member Karen, working on the Frosh pep skit, and contributing to the Frosh Cabinet have all made their first year at AHS full of fond memories.

SCHOOL SPIRIT and MORALE

Tall signs, short signs, long signs, and thin signs are all painted by the A.H.S. School Spirit and Morale Committee. The addition of these colorful posters makes pep assemblies at Patriat's Hall very inspiring. Hours of hard work go into the preparation of these murals before each pep assembly. Finding new slogans for each poster keeps the active members alert.

That white streak that just flew by? . . . Why, Jim "Strugar" Ochal, of course! At pep assemblies and basketball games, his antics have given spectators a chuckle as well as giving them that yen to yell. Jim, who is the last of the Bays' Baaster Club, "salas" as well as assists the Rally Squad in leading cheers. He's never actually shooting baskets but he's always in there shooting spirit and morale of team and roaters to sky heights.

Garbed in white shirts and blouses, students of A.H.S. salute members of the Fighting Fishermen team as they are intraduced over the public address system.

Directed by the rally squad, pepsters, service club, and fisherettes, the morale and spirit of those attending are kept at a high peak throughout the game.

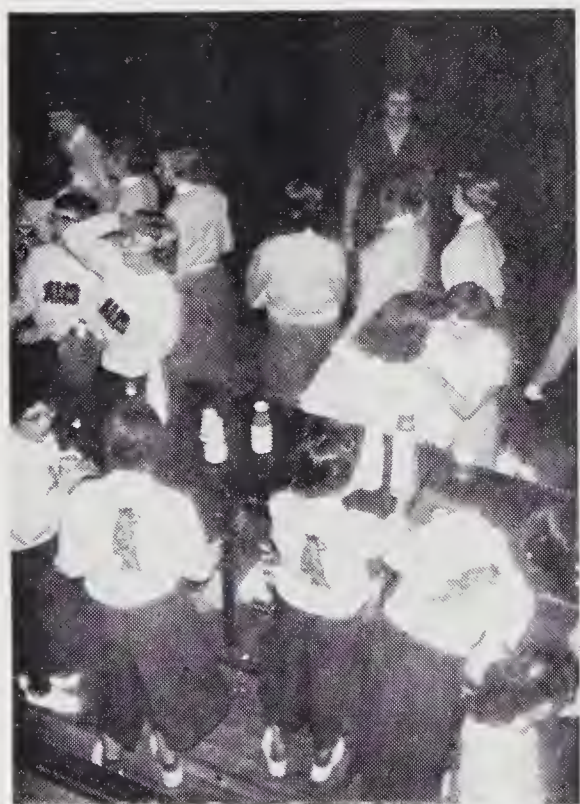

Flanked on either side by Fisherettes and Rally Squad, fighting football Fishermen make their entrance onto Gyra through a hoop of pep, undaunted by the eternal Astoria drizzle. From the stands wild cheering breaks loose as Co-Captains Dave Urell and Keith Korpela lead their team in pre-game exercises. The bays are being supported by another act of the School Spirit and Morale Committee.

The members of this hard working service organization are, from left to right, starting in the back row: Mary Kaitera, Judie Smethurst, Nancy Shephard, Corrine Osterlund, Tillie Koljonen, Sally Peterson, Nancy Storaasli; Kathy Astala, Thanna Hill, Denyse Sehorn, Doris Johnson, Ellen Sumida, Carol Peterson, Priscilla Lowe; Gail Hauke, Linda Bjork, Edna May Bingham, Sandra Ranta, Colleen Shephard; Nancy Reith, Dorothy Verschueren, Judy Brecht, Judy Hein; Myra Vaughan, Rosalie Haglund, Sandy Winters; Judy Hreha, Nanette Shatto and Jackie Smith.

Game-goers refresh themselves with food sold by the Service Club.

This snappy organization of thirty upperclass girls works hard for very little recognition. Besides their general promotion of pep and school spirit throughout the year they perform many seasonal duties. In the fall and winter their smart purple and white uniforms can be seen scurrying about selling tickets and refreshments at all football and basketball games. The Sodie Hawkins Dance adds to the school entertainment in the fall. Spring time finds them busily preparing for the annual all-sports banquet.

An active group even in the summer, the Service Club has a summer sleep-out and an initiation ceremony complete with banquet.

Our thanks to this fine organization which adds materially to our general fund and is, indeed, a Service Club!

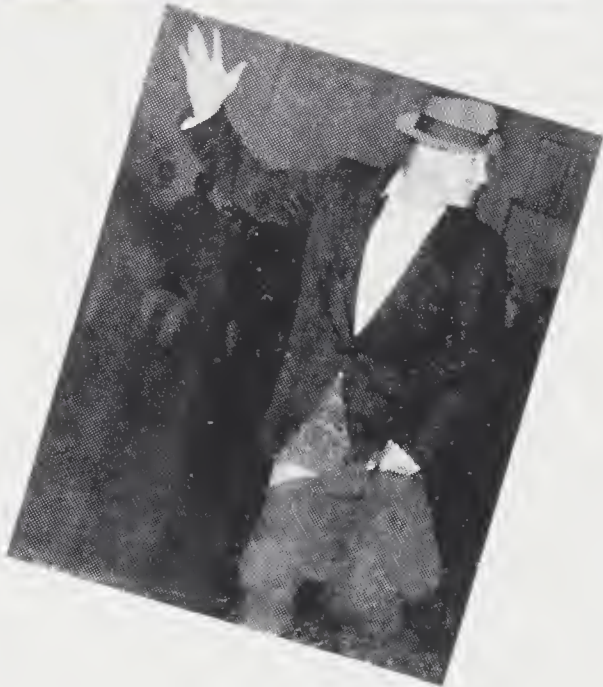

Members of the Torcher Hole rending "Banana Boat."

President Rolph "Elvis" Norgoord in full swing, performing for the student body.

The Torcher Hole is finishing its fourth and final year. These math students, hard workers all, organized a club which provided entertainment and various services to the school. The Torcher Hole Gang furnished the clowns at the homecoming parade, collected money for the March of Dimes, put on an assembly skit, and an after-game dance. So, when diplomas are issued, an end will come to one of the most colorful clubs to be formed in AHS.

President Judy Halt led the Fisherettes through the '56-'57 year.

The Fisherettes honor the United Fund Drive at halftime of the Tillamook game.

FISHERETTES

It is a thrill for all A.H.S. students when the Fisherettes kneel in the darkness, turn on their colored lights, and form the purple and gold "A".

If you have seen the Fisherettes march, you know that many hours of hard practice go into their shows. Under the leadership of Miss Upham and Mr. Marshall, these girls perform at games and in parades. The group is composed of freshmen and sophomore girls.

Getting the clock ready for the first game.

Practicing the chivalry of knighthood, which their name implies, the AHS Hi-Knights have been found working at all home games this year.

Garbed in white uniforms with Hi-Knight emblems, these hard-working boys are found upholding the purpose of their organization, that of maintaining peace and quiet at all home games.

Under the direction of Mr. Eliassen and Mr. Hiestand, these boys take tickets, guard doors, and do other odd jobs at games.

Keep your eye on the flag and not the girls, Poole!

HI-KNIGHTS

The Hi-Y Alpha and Beta Clubs have been active this year as they strive "To create, maintain and extend . . . high standards of Christian Character." Led by President, Tom Wells; Vice-President, Jim McCallister; Secretary, Jack Leinenweber; Treasurer, Dick Puusti, and Sergeant-at-Arms, Kim Whitman, they attended church in a body once a month, and participated in many community projects.

The high point of the year was the Youth Legislature, held in Salem. Astoria's six delegates, with other delegates from all over the state, set up a model government and learned how our state is run.

In the last row are: Ione Bubnick, Sara Eaton, Sonja Norgaard, Priscilla Ross, Charlene Baldwin, Sharen Wolleson, Karen Mllin, and Judy Steinbock.

TRI HI-Y

The ever-active Tri-Hi-Y Club took on a new look this year by the division of the club into upper and lower classmen groups, caused by the expanded membership list. Both groups endeavored to promote the spirit of Christian fellowship by such projects as giving Christmas baskets and aiding at the YMCA craft show.

The older girls, under the guidance of President Laurie Nephew, and her officers, staged a chilly but successful mid-winter hayride, and lower classman President Joyce Wilson led the "understudies" as they toured the city as carolers during the holiday season. The girls combined their efforts to present a delightful "Use Your Imagination" dance at Patriot's Hall, as well as a comical skit in the pep assembly. To these activities they added a Youth Legislature meeting in Salem. The regular Monday night meetings, and occasional swims at the "Y" pool rounded out a satisfactory year.

LIBRARY STAFF

"Books ,books, and mare books!" says Delores Swenson.

Assisting Mrs. Bentley and Mrs. Craven are twelve office girls, two for each period of the day.

These girls, chosen from their study halls offer on interview with Mr. Lind, learn general office procedures while typing, picking up absence slips, running errands, and answering the phone. Occasionally they run the ditto machine. Although these girls receive no credit for their work they still profit from the experience.

This is another of the many ways that students of AHS give their services to the school.

Are you typing, Mrs. Bentley?

STUDENT STORE SERVES

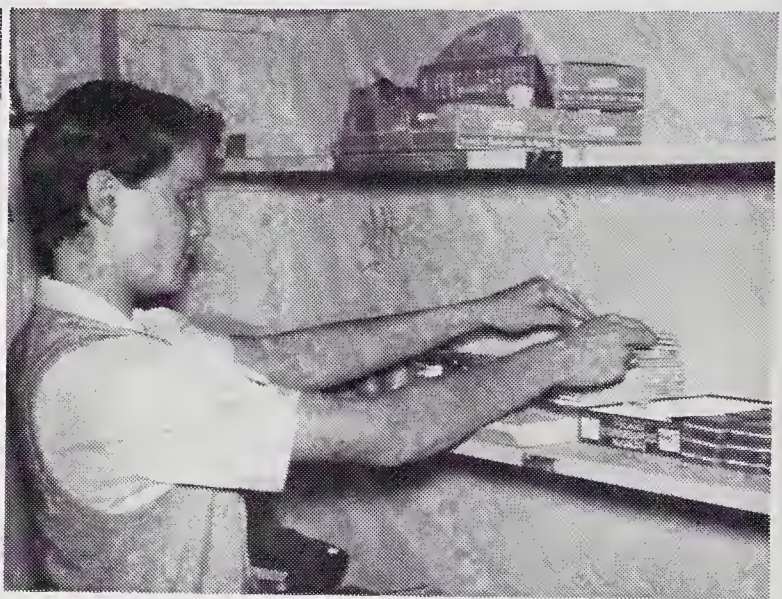

The student store started the year with a face lift and a look to the future. Mr. Laman, the new adviser, and Tom Stokes, student store manager, took several trips to various high schools in search of ideas to incorporate into the store at the new high school.

This year a better bookkeeping system and method of stock control have been put into use. A drive was made to remove old stock.

The staff has worked hard to please the students, their customers.

Huge, grey, chain-bound seagulls entitled "Les Miserables" waddled their way to first prize in the homecoming parade, starting the French Club activities rolling this year.

Les Circle Francais, which is composed of the members of second-year French class, held a Christmas party in the traditional French fashion and a festive Mardis Gras dance ruled over by King Rex and his Queen. Candy sales, French records, movies and letters to French pen pals completed the year's activities.

Dan Price, John Peterson, Barney Hughes, Phillip White and Kent Kramer.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club, under its new name, Los Pescadores de Saber, has been very active this year. The club's entry, Ferdinand the Bull, clowned his merry way into a second-place award in the Homecoming parade. Dancing beauties and clashing castanets enlivened the Spanish program at their Christmas party. Pan-American Day and candy sales were included among the year's activities.

Spanish clubbers: Marian Hauke, Doris Johnson, and Helen Uunila in "Shake, Rattle and Roll."

LATIN CLUB

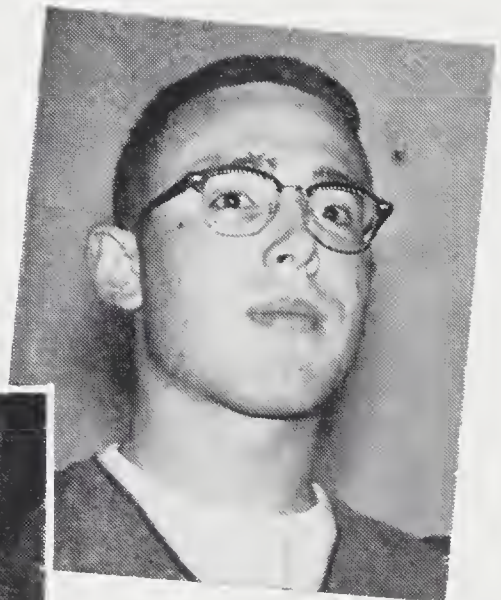

Students studying Latin, who are in the Junior Classical League are 1st row: Julie Hoare, Mary Ogin, Jan Isaacson, Judy Glascoe, Marlys Hoagland, Nancy Stenblom, Ann Harvey, Susan Morrow, Tamara Hastings, Mr. Roberts, adviser; 2nd row: Judy Simonson, Jocelyn Maddox, Carolyn Thomassen, Sandra Larson, Jeanne Stull, Pat Sehorn, Darle Hoagland JoAnne Storaasli, Maria Parks, Suzie Humphreys, 3rd row: Sharon Brandenburg, Marilyn Ranta, Mary Jane Kuratli, Milga Parks, Barbara Knutsen, Beckie Stanley, Karen Mell'n, Priscilla Ross, Carolyn Hanson, Carol Seely, 4th row: Sandra Northcraft, Judy Hackett, Margie Viuhkola, Sandra Ness, Karen Egan, Virleen Aker, Eleanor Olson, Jan Blomquist, Jackie Smith, 5th row: Barbara Burbach, Linda Fowler, Janice Orwick, Karen Mead, Judith Harvey, Ralph Wright, Hal Snow, Jim Siegmund, Mickey Seppa, 6th row: Byron Page, Tom Osborne, Carl Tolonen, Fred Jensen, Gary Glascoe, Curtis Greenberg, Don Riswick, Jerry Alderman, 7th row: Jerry Fawkes, Eric Osterholme, Harold Gay, Alan Moberg, Tom Wells, Phil Thom, Brian Paaso, Richard Seppa, 8th row: Phil Peterson, Jim Brecht, Leif Erickson, and Dean Salley.

Under the new title of The Bajuli Taedarum, which means, Bearers of the Tarch, the Latin club, first and second year inclusive, has participated this year in a number of outstanding events. These are the initiation ceremony for the first year Latin students, the after game dance, a Roman banquet in the spring, and four quarterly club projects.

The Bajuli Taedarum strives to promote an interest and appreciation for the Latin language and the culture of ancient Rome and Greece.

Officers of the club are: Brian Paasa, president; Curtis Greenberg, vice-president; Darle Haagland, secretary-treasurer, and Rose Marie L'Amie, sergeant-at-arms. Mr. Roberts is the advisor.

FUTURE TEACHERS of AMERICA

"We are interested in the teaching profession and proud to be Future Teachers of America," say the active group which is advised and encouraged by Mrs. Egan.

Club activities, planned at their semi-monthly meetings, included a candy sale for the teachers' scholarship fund, cadet teaching at Astoria grade schools, and a potluck supper that the cadet teachers gave for the grade school supervising faculty.

They have attended state and regional conventions and the Classroom Teachers' organization.

Officers are: president, Evelyn Lewis; vice-president, Nancy Reith; secretary-treasurer, Mary Lou Hagblom.

Attractive AHS students leave Capt. Robert Gray grade school after their cadet teaching.

Judi Mason does her cadet teaching in a science class at Lewis and Clark grade school.

Third row: Sharon Daniels, Carol Rickert, Bonnie Fox, Myra Spaulding, Kathy Miller, Kathy Rova, Pat Wolleson, Tillie Koljonen, Judy Nielson.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Under the new adviser, Miss Roma Brown, the Future Homemakers of America have had an interesting year of activities.

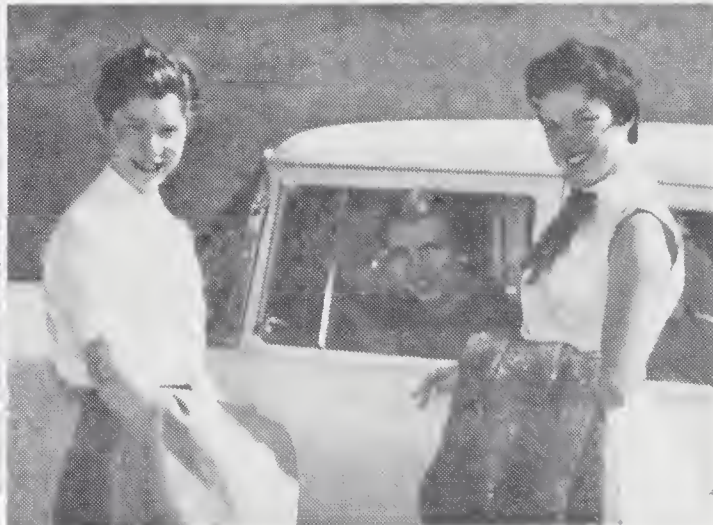

They presented a clever pep assembly skit and made candy for two successful sales. In November five girls attended the district convention in Forest Grove.

After attending the Episcopal church on their annual "go to church" Sunday the group was shown various types of china, crystal, and sterling at a potluck dinner.

In March Miss Brown took two of the members to the state convention in Corvallis. The year's activities ended with a gay, sleepless slumber party.

President Suzanne Warner speaks to new members at the initiation.

SCIENCE CLUB

Prexy Helena Uunilo examines a biology exhibit.

Scientific interests among AHS students are developed within the AHS Science club. Films, guest speakers, field trips, and individual projects all give glimpses of scientific futures.

After being initiated, this year the fullfledged members took part in various club activities: aiding the bloodmobile, making Christmas wreaths, and attending Science Day at Linfield College.

Science Club sponsored window display encouraged record-breaking donations to the Red Cross bloodmobile.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS LEAGUE

Becoming better acquainted with current world problems has been the primary function of the AHS International Relations Club. After one term of notebooks, mops, panel discussions, reports, and debates, the group sent eight lucky members to the state conference in Eugene, where they participated in a Model United Nations as delegates from the Republic of Indonesia. The group was also honored by the election of Morian Hauke as state secretary-treasurer of the organization. These enthusiastic foreign ambassadors held bi-weekly Tuesday night meetings, under the guidance of President Ron Lum and advisers Mrs. Nyland and Miss Crouter.

BAND

"I don't see how people can make such a great sound," was the comment of Ted Marshall, Astoria High's new Band director and Music Supervisor. This comment was well founded as the band ended a successful season of football shows, school assemblies, concerts and public appearances. Though small in numbers, the band programmed "A" and "AA" music, lacking only in instrumentation and never in intonation or tonal quality. During football season the AHS instrumentalists presented several enjoyable halftime shows of a pageant type. Immediately after football the concert band opened the concert season with its first assembly. Light music and "Pop" tunes were heard by the students. Later, at Christmas, the band and chorus presented their concert in two performances. As a preview of the spring concert the band again entertained the students in March at an assembly. This time heavier music was featured as well as student soloists.

INSTRUMENTAL ENSEMBLES

The Trumpet Trio, Bob Herbst, Jerry Alderman and Mike Donaly give forth with the sweet harmony they are known for.

Bob Hendrickson, Moson Morisset, Bob Herbst and Jerry Alderman combine their talents to produce the spunky Brass Quartet.

The feminine Clarinet Quartet, Judy Larson, Judy McGhee, Mary Jane Kamm and Judy LoPoy, move through a song with the greatest of ease.

Reminiscent of a polka band are Jim Whitmon, Bob Hendrickson, Moson Morisset, Cloyton Smethurst, Mike Donoly and Jerry Alderman, members of the Brass Sextet.

"Blend, blend, blend!" The words still ring in the ears of those students who participated in small performance groups this year. And blend they did. The brass sextet blew, phrased, released, and fingered until blue in the face. The result was not blue but an excellent example of the fine musicians the music department can produce. The clarinet quartet, trumpet trio, and brass quartet all did the same producing good musical sounds.

At the spring concert the trumpet trio performed with band accompaniment. A trumpet solo and a baritone solo were also featured at this performance. From the band came six soloists and four ensembles to represent AHS in this division at the District 10 Music Contest held in Tillamook. The entire music department looks forward to the new school and an acoustically engineered rehearsal hall and sound-proof practice rooms.

Providing the necessary spirit and pep for basketball games and assemblies was the job of the "cool" pep band. Made up of twenty members chosen from the concert band the group whipped pop tunes into shape in before-school rehearsals. Pep Band developed into an excellent sounding group, capable of playing blues, Dixieland, and "Rock and Roll."

Coupled with the performances of the Pepsters the band turned out some very creditable half-time shows during basketball season. The Pep Band topped off a successful season with a trip to the Stote tournament, receiving many compliments on its tone and intonation.

At many of these games, Gary Glascoe was found presiding as student director. Gary showed the same drive in his directing as he has always shown the students in his drumming.

A CAPPELA CHOIR

Left to right in the first row we see: Nancy Reith, Laurie Nephew, Doris Johnson, Leona Graham, Judy Mason, Juanita Gunnari, Maralee Olson, Mary Polisky, Sharon Wogberg, Sally Peterson, Gail Hauke, Mr. Melton, instructor. In the second row: Patsy Julian, Janice Lockhart, Karen Schaub, Colleen Thompson, Patricia Wolleson, Linda Blomquist, Marian Hauke, Linda Williams, Judy Branthover, Bonnie Day, Aina May Schenk. In the third row are: Ronald Warner, Terry Folland, Bill Hanselman, Neal Mattson, Roland Gregg, Kim Whitman, Tom Stokes, Lowell Teasley, Karen Johnson, Sandy Hill, Delores Fiscola. In the fourth row stands: Norman Herth, Dennis Belcher, Jack Himes, Jim Bradbury, Watson Roth, Jim Luoma, Leonard Bailey, Ben Johnson, John Wagner, Richard Safley, Gerald Utter, Mike Howell, Robert Monson, Helena Uunila, Saradell Stangland, Suzanne Ransom, Nancy Springer, not pictured.

Practice in class prepares the A Cappella choir for the District music contest.

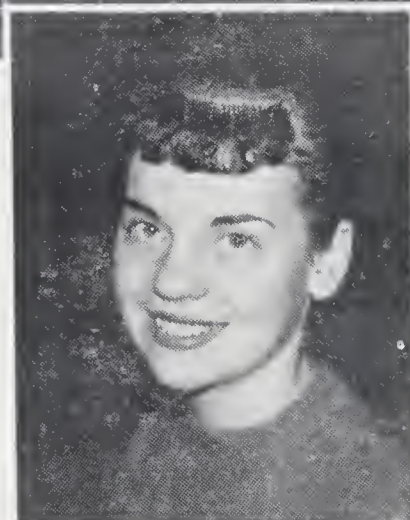

The choir, led by Mr. Melton, carols at local hospitals.

The purple and gold robes of the A Cappella choir clothe the fifty-five juniors and seniors who practice first period every day. They have performed at numerous assemblies for the student body and the townspeople. The Spring Festival was the most recent. After the secular part of the program the choir dressed in informal attire and gave a sequence of show tunes. Adding zest to the singing, members of the group agilely danced. They were enthusiastically received.

GIRLS' GLEE

The Girls' Glee, ready to perform, are: Judy Simonson, Janis Isaacson, June Rettew, Darlene Lempe, Tarcille Ellsworth, Barbara Burbach, Sharon Brandenburg, Judy Glascoe, Jocelyn Maddox and Mr. Melton. Second row: Shirley Wyatt, Janet Armstrong, Becky Stanley, Sonja Norgaard, Vicki Wooldridge, Judy Baird, Georgia Rice, Carolyn Hughes, Lois Halli and Nancy Stenblom. Third row: Mary Ogin, Linda Woodworth, Barbara Davis, Marilyn Morfitt, Pauline Parrott, Sandra Ness, Jane Lewis, Sandra Erderly, Janet Backlund, Kay Bolter and Jean Ostrom.

Jacelyn Maddox is musical prexy.

This year the Girls' Glee was composed of thirty-one girls from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes. Fourth period we have heard their happy voices singing various types of music. This includes religious, novelty and popular songs.

The group of girls has performed at the programs throughout the year. The latest presentation was at the Spring Festival. They sang selections from Snow White.

Music is fun! Along with enjoying themselves, they have constantly worked for full rounded tones, which is just one factor pertinent to a fine glee club.

The members of the Madrigals pictured around the piano are from left to right: Marian Hauke, Bob Monson, Watson Roth, Nancy Reith, Judi Mason, Delores Fiscola, Gail Hauke, Karen Johnson, Mike Howell, Jack Himes, Nancy Springer, not pictured.

Practice! Practice! This is the motto of the Madrigal singers. This group, made up of juniors and seniors, sing the 6th century music, secular, sacred and a few novelty tunes. The twelve voices can be heard expressing themselves every Thursday morning and Tuesday evening. The singers have performed at all music assemblies, a few of the special occasions, and at various organizations in town. They enjoy themselves while at work because it is an informal style of singing. Usually they sit around a table and use their music.

Show tunes, contemporary songs, and novelty numbers have been chosen by the Sextet for their practices this year.

This ensemble was selected from the A cappella choir. They practice Wednesday and Friday mornings.

Not only has the Sextet performed at the Christmas and Spring concerts but they have been invited to sing for community affairs during the year.

Every day during the second period, you'll hear strains of harmonized music coming from room 14. It is the Sophomore Triple Trio practicing probably for one of their many programs.

The "Gals" are kept busy performing at civic functions, churches and school programs.

Costumed in blue skirts and white, long-sleeved blouses, they make a nice appearance.

TRIPLE

"The cream of the Glee Club," say some, is in other words, the Frosh Triple Trio. These nine lively girls and their accompanist contributed their time and efforts to make one of the "singingest" groups in school.

Regular practice paid off with invitations to entertain for various civic clubs. The group made their appearances clad in attractive blue and white outfits.

Jocelyn Maddox, Jean Ostrom, Judy Simonson, Janice Isaacson, Vicki Wooldridge, Sharon Brandenburg, Barbara Davis, Marilyn Morfitt and Tarcille Ellsworth make up the Freshman Triple Trio.

SENIOR PLAY

Does the motorcycle sound come now or is it the doorbell?
Bored between tokes.
Now for those lines of distinction.

Perhaps the most outstanding production of the year was the Senior class play, "Father Was A Housewife," which was presented at Captain Robert Gray school, on February 19th and 20th.

Setting this three-act comedy off from other plays in the past was its production. Under the direction of Mrs. Nedra Christensen the play was produced in the advanced speech class as a project of the department.

The play was a hilarious comedy with an up-to-the-minute situation. Father, the leading character, kept house, until he rebelled, while mother earned the living by practicing medicine.

"This play was one of the best I have ever seen," commented a student onlooker.

And a member from the cast added, "Everything went smoothly. It was loads of fun. I wouldn't have missed it for the world."

FORENSIC CLUB

Although only in the second year of its existence, the Forensic club, made up of AHS speech students, has maintained an interesting and active agenda throughout this entire school year. The group usually had a good percentage of its sixty members at the monthly meetings.

A kick-off potluck supper was planned by old members last fall. To raise funds, four one-act plays were presented to the student body. Social events on the calendar included programs given by members, Mr. Herman Robinson, of KAST, who spoke on radio broadcasting, and a progressive dinner.

Climaxing the year's activities was the state speech tournament held at Corvallis. Prior to that time Forensic club members attended speech meets at Pacific University and Seaside. Then after competing successfully in the district tournament eight people were off to the state tournament, the first time in many years.

LADIES OF THE MOP, a hilarious comedy, was presented by the first year students. The one-act play, under the direction of Mrs. Christensen, was thoroughly enjoyed by the student body. Their efforts were well rewarded

FORENSIC

HIGH WINDOW, an unusually suspenseful one-act melodrama, was well presented by the advanced speech class.

Playing behind footlights in the center of the gym, the cast had only a high French window to give the illusion of a room.

The stars for the play "High Window" are: Dennis Gann, as Walter Hodge, the dominated center of the enigma, Billie Spohrer as the newspaperwoman whose curiosity freed Walter from his mental torment; Mary Lou Haggblom as Aunt Emily, who taunted cruelly about Walter's weakness and tried to keep her husband's death a secret; Nancy Springer as Judith Ware, the secretary nurse who also was under Emily's power; and Dennis Belcher as her lawyer, who was trying to get Walter committed to an institute.

Involved in a "comedy of errors" are: Ellyn Bock, Darrell Isoacson, Calinette Fenander, Arnold Curtis, Mary Susan Lowe, Ardie O'Dell, Mike Foster and Goyle Ross.

MURDER, THEY SAY, the one act comedy given by the third period speech class was "literally an atomic bomb of laughter with everything excepting a murder and gun fire." Even the psychoanalyst has a nervous breakdown.

PLAYS

THE MYSTERY OF MOULDY MAN-OR, second period speech class contribution to drama this year, is a farce that pokes fun of the time-worn tricks of mystery writers with ghosts, trained spiders and a mad doctor who operates.

Intrigue and mystery are the keynotes of the drama presented by Carol Mattson, Patti Wolleson, Sandy Hill, Danny Williams, Leonard Bailey, Audrey Maberg, Gene Kverndal, Diane Follieur and Mason Morisset.

CAMERA CLUB

Every AHS student will recall watching some industrious member of the Camera Club snapping pictures at every game, dance, and pep assembly of the year. These shutterbugs, under the supervision of Mr. Jensen, adviser, and Ken Olsen, president, took part in field trips, entered pictures in national competition, and studied photography movies in order to stimulate an interest in photography as a hobby or profession. With the aid of three new cameras, the group spent an active year, recording on film the memories of every high school student.

SPORTS

Behind the cheers, the excitement,
The spirit and the pride at every game
Is the team
Fighting powerfully to the end
Upholding AHS traditions
They strive to succeed for the School Inspired by the cheers
And faith of the students
Most often they emerge joyously
The victors
Occasionally, the defeated
But, always good sports who
Have given their best efforts
For AHS.

SPORTS

The end! The final chapter is written in the halls of old AHS.

The athletes recorded the last achievements on the walls of Astoria High. The records were impressive and everlasting—from rough, well-played football seasons, many state tournament basketball teams, to scrappy baseball and golf squads.

Now here's to the new Alma Mater in hopes that the impressions made by athletes will be as worth-while and ever-lasting as those created in years past.

Thanks for those memories at the Armory and the walk down 16th street to Gyro. Now to the new gym and later a new field to begin the new era of sports in Astoria High School.

FOOTBALL

The "Fighting Fishermen" closed their '56 football season with a sparkling record of 8 wins against a single loss. It was that loss which kept them from getting to the playoffs, but, never-the-less, they had one of the most successful seasons that an Astoria team has ever produced, putting a big bite in all but one of the bigger Metro schools' records.

Coach Thompson, with twenty-six seniors, four juniors, and four sophomores started off the season with a rousing 26-7 win over the Cheese-makers from Tillamook.

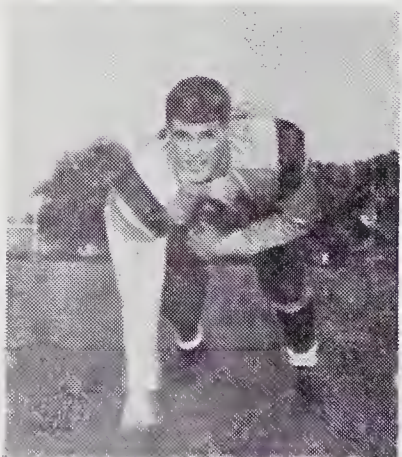

After that the league play started. Astoria's first victim was Milwoukie. It was a tight game with the Mustangs pressing all the way. The final score was 19-14 Astoria. Then came David Douglas. The Scots, small and inexperienced, also fell 26-7. The week after that the Sportans from Hillsboro were defeated 25-0. The Fishermen put on a splendid performance. Astoria finally beat Central Catholic 61-0 after taking beatings from them for four years. Seaside lost to us 26-7. Then came the heart-breaker against Gresham. Basically, we outplayed them, but score-wise it was Gresham 6-0. We defeated Parkrose 26-0 and Beaverton 13-12 to end the season.

FOOTBALL

The seniors you see pictured on these pages have played their last year of football for Astoria High.

It all started in junior high, back in '52. Competition was very strong. In 1953 the freshmen had a successful season. Wally Nelson was on the varsity.

Then came '54. Astoria had little material among the upperclassmen. The sophomores were called on and did a good job, not in record wise, but in morale, spirit, and experience. At one time there were nine sophomores on the starting line-up.

During the junior year our boys were growing up and a successful season was enjoyed. Nine juniors started the whole season and sometimes ten. Astoria won the first three games, lost a couple and finally ended the season with six wins and three losses. Dave Urell and Keith Karpela were named the next co-captains.

'56—the big year! Ten seniors started and helped win every game except one. They played like real champions. Eight and one was their record. All of them have played four years of ball with the exception of Dan Landwehr, who played three and Gary Manners, Fred Hartstrom and Ralph Norgaard, who played only their senior year.

Hats off to the JV faatball squad undefeated in Oregon, this season. The only lass suffered was in Langview, Washington. They were caached by Jerry Masby, a new teacher and caach at AHS, whase record af wins reflects the efforts he expended on the team.

Made up af 33 saphomares and a dozen juniars the JV squad was definitely a tough, hard-charging bunch of split-T'ers.

Mast will be seeing varsity ac-tian next year.

The 1956 Frosh football team finished the season with a 3-2-2 record. Caach Clark's tough practices weren't too tough for the comparatively small but rugged Frash team, who averaged 135 pounds per man and played against men 20 pounds heavier.

The Frosh had four games at home and three away. In the seven games played, John Kallia, John Petersan and Larry Hill were standouts in the Frosh line-up and are sure prospects for the future. Overall, the bays praved to be camers and displayed good sportsmanship.

Next year the Frosh will nat run down to Gyra and crawl back up ta the old shower rooms on the hill. The athletic program is yet to be planned as this year's back is printed, but the transportation will be a problem the first year since the field will not be ready by 1957.

VARSITY

The basketball team, although it had its back to the wall several times this season, showed its ability to play in the clutch. Ending the season with 17 wins and 8 losses, the Fishermen placed second in the Metro League, which gave them the right to a trip to Eugene and the State Tournament. In the Tournament the Fishermen dropped their first game to a red-hot Benson club, edged out St. Helens and dropped their final game to the highly-rated Klamath Falls team.

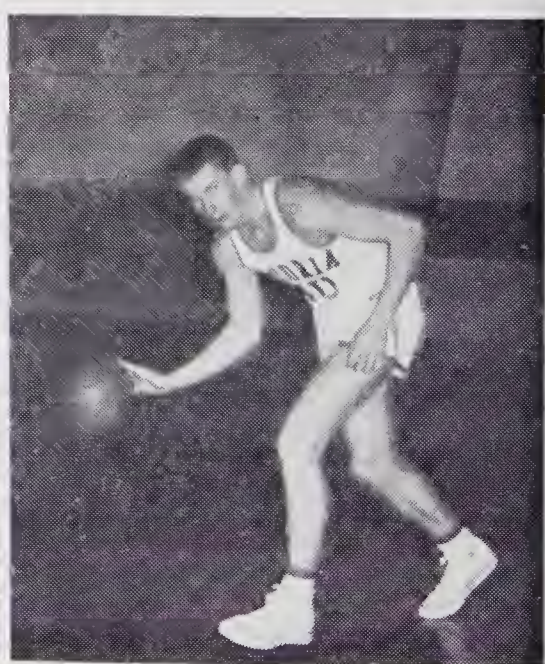

The Fishermen had a hot and cold season. They showed their strength early in the season by beating the number-one team in the State, Central Catholic, in a nip and tuck battle and in the second game between the two ball clubs lost by only three points.

The senior-studded Fishermen team is going to be hard to replace. Graduating are second team All-State, All-Metra League star, Darrel Reef; All-Metra League star, Fred Hartstrom; second team All-Metro League star, Gary Manners, and Ralph Norgaard, John Viuhkala, Bab Canessa, Bob Clement, Wally Nelson and Bob Quammen. This year marked the most successful season of Coach Thompson's JV career. He had 20 wins and only 2 losses, Grant and Central Catholic. The JV's won the Metro JV loop. Of course, there is a success story behind it all. They had good defense, played as a unit, kept even scoring, and out-hustled every team.

Arnold Curtis was the leading scorer and following him were Matthews, Isaacson, Safley, Johnson and Niemi. They will help the varsity next year tremendously.

FROSH

The Fingerlings closed out their season with a record of fifteen wins against four losses. It was a very successful season for Coach Doug Clark's crew, losing only to Knappa JV's twice, Worrenton Jv's and Nehalem JV's.

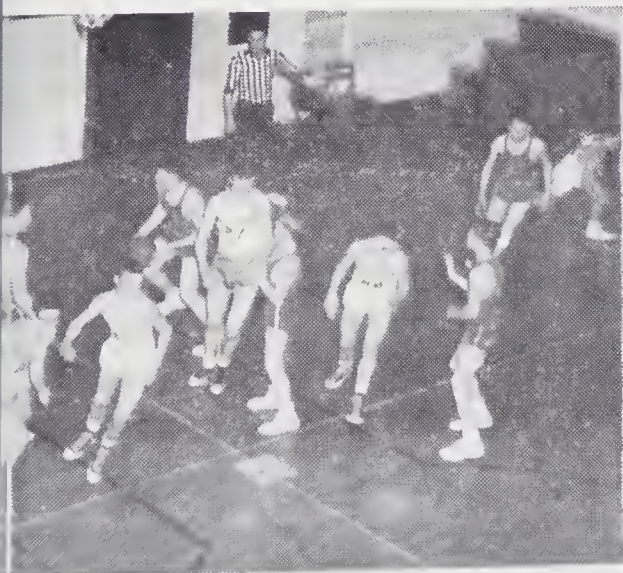

Leading them were Tom Groves with 246 points, Lorry Hill, 215 points, Jeff Croig, 181 points, Jim Wouri, 110, and Bob Johnson, 107 points.

Reasons for their outstanding record were, first, the fact that they had plenty of bench strength and, second, very good team spirit and worked together.

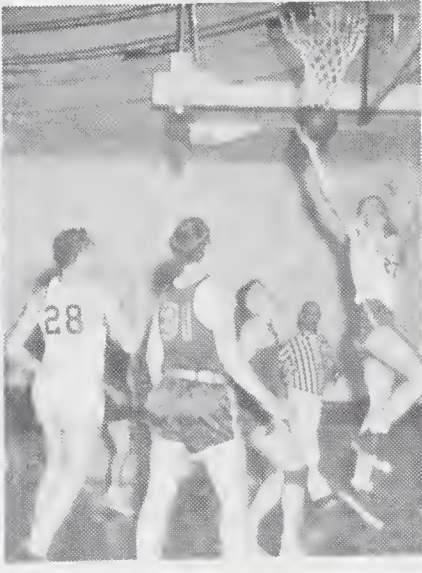

In the years to come they should develop into one of the better teams in the state.

With a turnout of ten hopefuls the 1957 golf team started its busy season. The team, comprised of sophomores, juniors and seniors, was coached by Roy Thompson. Five seniors, returned to the squad, included Dick Puusti, Neil Morfitt, Jim Lopokko, Tom Wells and Ed Holl. Rototing at sixth position were Dove Jarvinen, Sue Rofferty, Roold Berg, Jim McCollister and Corole Hendrickson. Astoria was one of the few teams in the league on which girls played.

The Fisherman team was a member of the Metropolitan league, playing ten competitive matches among the six member teams.

The season goal of the team was to play in the state tournament which was held at the Glendover Golf Course on May 20-21. Over thirty teams competed. Astoria's team was captained by Dick Puusti, the morale builder of the squad.

BASEBALL

The varsity baseball team, again hindered by poor weather conditions and lack of facilities, had another bad season, losing ten and winning one.

Although the team made a poor showing, they had an outstanding player in the person of Bob Canessa, whose big bat boasted a .400 batting average.

This year's junior varsity baseball team, under the direction of Coach Jerry Mosby, had a good season, winning four and losing one.

The members of this year's team, consisting of freshmen, sophomores and juniors, will prove to be a valuable asset in the years to come.

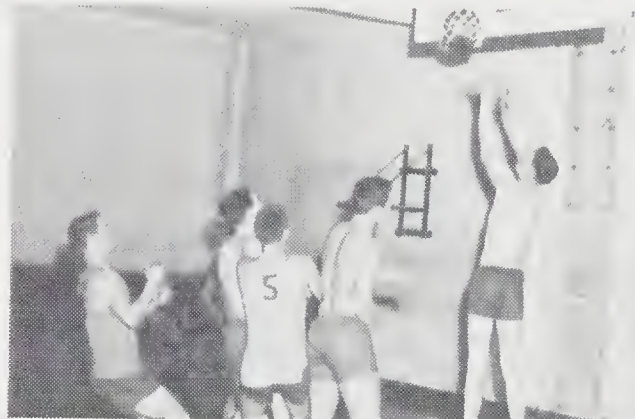

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

This year the high school intramural league was divided into the junior and senior divisions for under and upper classmen. This split makes the games tougher, and at times, rougher.

Kaufman's Sporting Goods team was the champion, with Captain Larry Battles accepting the trophy from Bill Wilson, president of the Astoria Athletic Association. The junior division winner was Greenberg's team.

GIRLS BOWLING

The girl bowlers pictured above are from left to right front row: Janet Strasser, Carol Wilson, Carolyn Bunke, Marlene Boyle, Carol Mattson, Linda Bjork, Judy McGhee, Gayle Ross. In the second row: Judy Breche, Carol Patten, Gloria Parker, Patti Wolleson, Nancie Taival, Connie Bubnick, and Karen Schaub.

Marilyn Pearson and Myra Vaughn are head score keepers.

Easy does it, Marilyn!

Strikes . . . breaks . . . scores and all that goes with bowling kept several AHS girls busy this year.

Advised by Mrs. Judie Baker, these energetic Fisher-ladies formed teams, played tournaments and succeeded in having much fun.

They met on Mondays and Tuesdays at the Elks' alley, alternating teams to bowl except when teams competed. Champions of the year were the Geronimas with the True Bloods coming in second.

President of the group was Rosalie Haglund and secretary was Joanne Steele.

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOC.

The members of the GAA are from left to right: Carol Nielson, D'anne Piipo, Corrine Osterlund, Tamara Hastings, Marlys Hoagland. Second row: Susan Morrow, Ann Harvey, Mary Susan Lowe, Glenda Kaufman, Rose Marie L'Amie, Sara Eaton. Third row: Linda Fowler, Ardie O'Dell, Tillie Koljonen, Connie Bubnick, Karen Peterson, Mrs. Layton. Fourth row: Sandra Northcraft, Linda Bjork, Nancie Taival, Carolyn Bunke, Karen Schaub, Judy McGhee.

To promote participation in girls' sports, friendliness and cooperation among all girls is the aim of the Girls' Athletic Association. Any girl who is interested in sports is eligible to belong to this club.

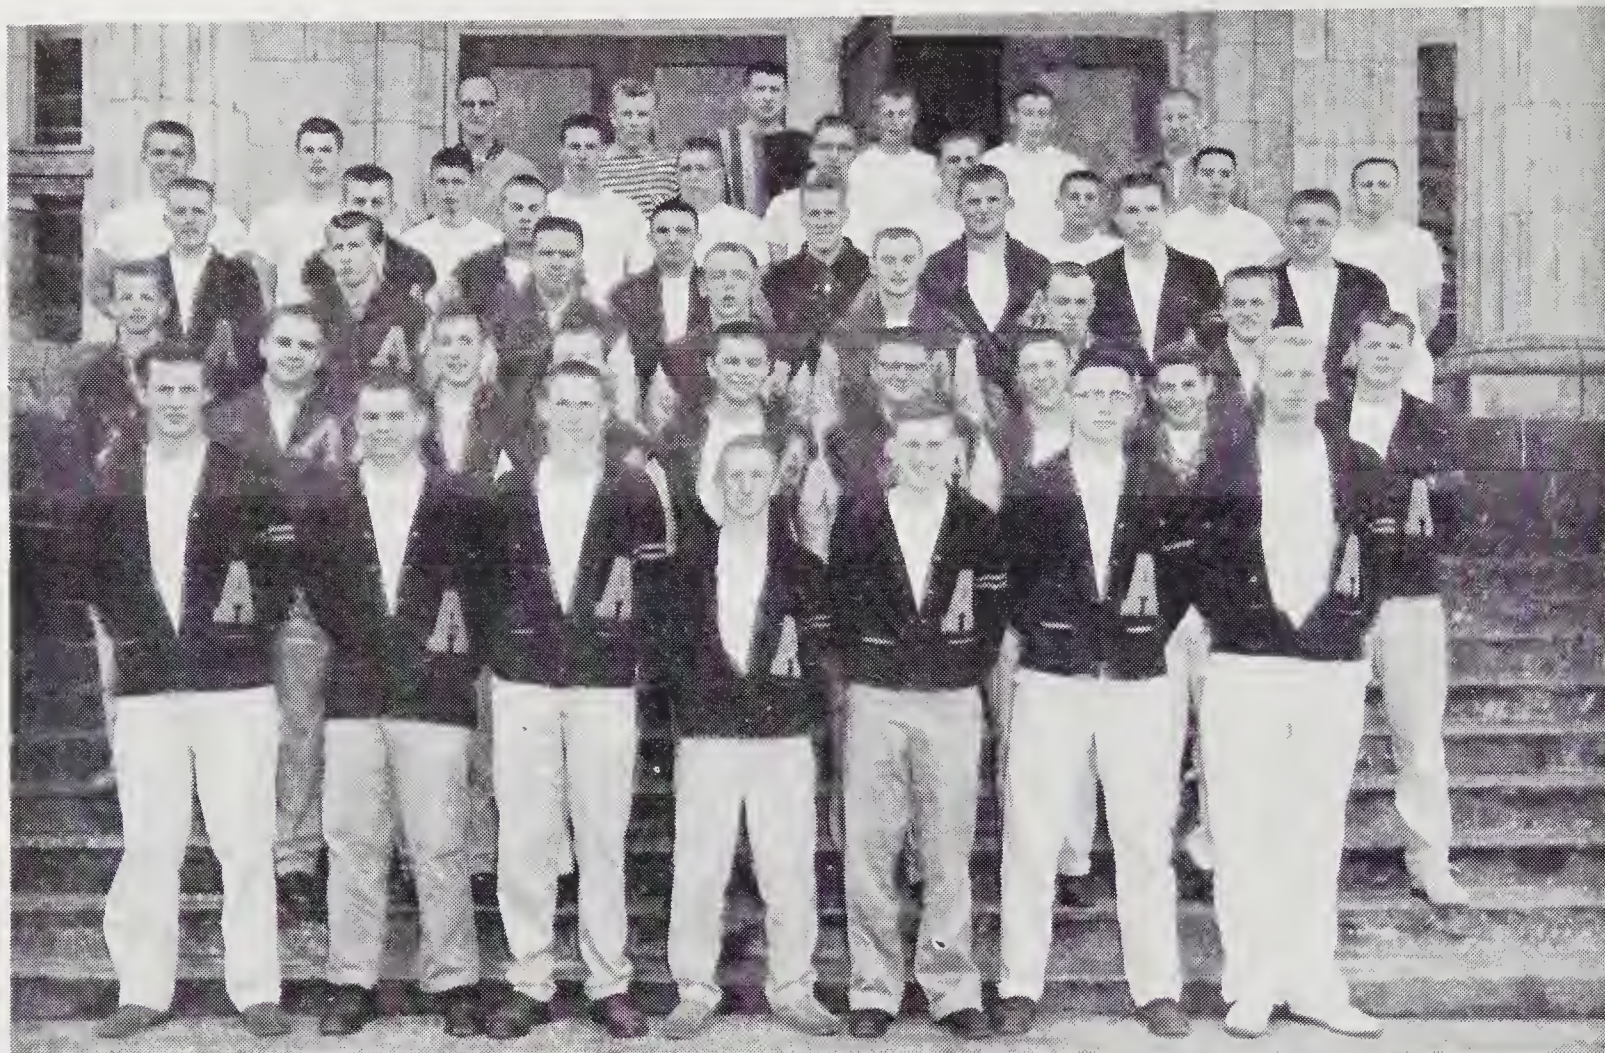

Included in this year's activities was the membership party. This party was especially put on to acquaint the new members with the rules and regulations.

Carolyn Bunke was elected as president of a special mid-year election to replace Billie Spohrer, who resigned because of other activities. Mrs. Alice Loyton is the adviser for the club.

"A" CLUB

The "A" Club of Astoria High really came to life this year under the direction of Larry Battles, president; Dave Urell, vice-president; Fred Hartstrom, secretary-treasurer, and Jim Ochal, sergeant-at-arms. They put a newly formed merit system into effect to make the club more active in contributing to school and community life.

Members will receive merits for activities participated in. Demerits are issued for meetings not attended. The senior member with the most merits will rceive a blanket and the top junior merit earner will have his name inscribed on a plaque to be kept in the trophy case.

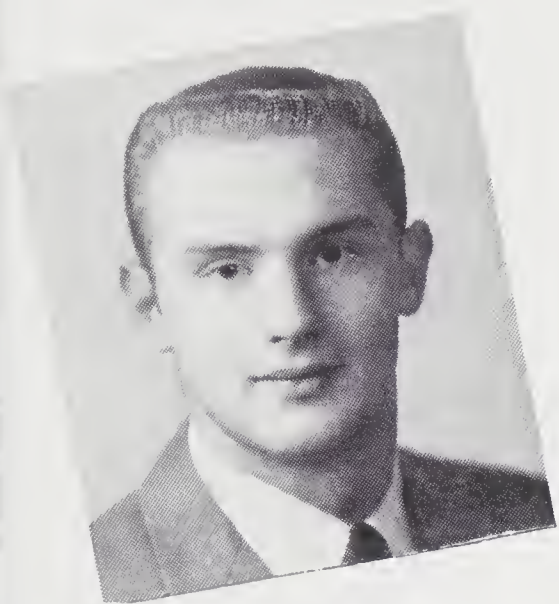

Mr. Mosby and Mr. Thompson are advisers.

CALENDAR

For every high school teenager
There are precious memories,
Significant to those who share
Them together as classmates
And friends
The Junior Prom, the Senior Ball,
The Soph Hop and Frosh Frolic
Are just a few of these events
So well recorded in the History book of happy memories
Yes, AHS students, more than once,
With a smile and a happy sigh
Recall the bygone "specials" offered
To them in their high school life!

COLINETTE FENANDER

Valedictorian
Fred Hartstrom

VALDICTORIAN

Taking top honors in the class of '57 with a four point grade average is Fred Hartstrom, an outstanding leader and athlete. Since entering here from Jewell last year he has served as Boys' Federation president, captain of the varsity basketball team, Boys' State representative and sports editor of the Astor Post.

He has won both a $500 Rotary and a $250 Elks' scholarship.

The Zephyrus staff congratulates Fred on his outstanding work and wishes him the best.

Salutatorian
Judy Larson

SALUTATORIAN

The ability to do things well has gained for Judy Larson the honor of being salutatorian. Quiet, even-tempered Judy is a student who can be depended on as has been shown by her work as librarian.

Music is another of her interests. She has been an active member of the band during her four high school years. Chosen by a vote of band members, Mr. Marshall and faculty, Judy received the Arion Award for exceptional work in music.

The Zephyrus staff wishes her success as she attends Linfield College on a four-year scholarship grant.

WE SALUTE

Each year there are a number of outstanding students who receive little recognition for their scholastic ability. This year six students maintained a "straight A" average.

The group includes Fred Hartstrom, senior; Susan Rafferty and Marian Hauke, juniors; Kristina Pernu, sophomore, and Maria Parks and Sandra Osterlund, freshmen, all of whom are members of the honor societies.

These active and capable AHS'ers are pictured to the right.

HOMECOMING

The most exciting and vividly-remembered time of each year for AHS students is perhaps the big Homecoming event when the Alumni come home and students, teachers, and townspeople work together for its success.

Looking back to this year's 1956 Homecoming, we remember the festivities began with the blazing bonfire that was topped with a huge replica of a seagull, symbolic of Seaside High. Band numbers, pep talks by presidents of the city service organizations, rousing yells by the student body all built up the old "on to victory" spirit.

"Tall Tales," was the theme for the Homecoming Parade. Many long hours were spent making the floats, practicing marches and preparing other events. Above is pictured the winning Senior float, "Old Woman in the Shoe." A colorful shoe, second in line for the awards, was the Juniors'. Their float, "Winkin, Blinkin ,and Nod," achieved difference by being sheathed in angel hair.

The Freshmen chose "Aladdin's Lamp" as their theme, and a silvery, musical lamp it proved to be.

26-0 was the score of the big game when the Fighting Fishermen whipped the Seaside Seagulls at Gyro Field. "We'll win!" had shouted the students and win they did.

Homecoming Queen Maralee welcomed the crowd when she and her court and their escorts appeared between halves at the game. Additional half-time entertainment included the Band and the Fisherettes.

QUEEN MARALEE REIGNS

Friday, October nineteenth, the AHS student body's suspense was brought to a close with the announcing of Homecoming Queen for 1956—Maralee Olson.

Queen Maralee was crowned by Student Body President Neil Morfitt. Queen Maralee ascended to the throne where sits only Astoria's royalty. Maralee has the honor of being the last girl to be crowned Homecoming Queen in the old Astoria High School building.

A trio composed of Nancy Springer, Karen Makela and Karen Johnson, sang "Sweet and Lovely," which well fitted the coronation ceremony. After the song, Julie Hoore danced a bollet in the honor of the Queen and her Court. Then the girls were escorted from Patriot's Hall, each in a colored spotlight, the last court "for above Columbia's waters."

The 1956 Homecoming court pictured above are from left to right: Nancy Stenblom, candlelighter; Steven Palmrose, crown bearer; Clayton Johnson, Barbara Davis, Freshmen Princess and escort; Mel Maki and Gayle Ross, representing the juniors; Senior princess Sheryl Hoogland and escort Gary Monners; Queen Maralee Olson and her escort Mike Simmons; Senior princess Suzonne Englund and escort Jim Fleck; Donna Pannek and Lawrence Trevithick selected by the sophomores; Vicky Osterlund, flower girl; and Millie Hartstrom, candlelighter.

"CLUB '57" REVIEW

Senior Ball goers dance under the ceiling of Club '57.

Breaking from tradition, the annual Senior Ball was held on a Saturday—December 22. Shabby old Patriot's Hall was transformed with modern pink and white decor into the gay "Club '57."

The night club motif was carried out in the raised table section, a bar serving "pink" punch to the dancing couples and delightful shadow boxes depicting typical Christmas scenes—a tree, snowman and Santa.

Class president, Ed Hall, led the grand march to begin the memorable occasion. Live music and top entertainment ended the evening that is captured in the memories of all who attended the Senior Ball.

JUNIOR PROM

Entranced in an atmosphere of Oriental fantasy, prom revellers whirled to the music of the "Four Tones" on the night of May 3 at the annual Junior Prom.

The "Kismet" theme was carried out with brilliant shades of turquoise and coral. Like magic, drab Patriot's Hall was transformed into a Persian wonderland, complete with a Taj Mahal and a sparkling fountain, illuminated by colored lights.

AHS socialites witnessed the crowning of Susan Rafferty as Prom Queen. The last formal dance in the old school had been a memorable occasion.

The Grand March heralds an evening of sheer enchantment.

SOPH HOP

"Tops in Pops" proved tops in entertainment as the guys and gals enjoyed themselves at the annual Soph Hop this spring.

Declared by many as a "terrific success," the dance was very cleverly decorated with notes, albums, and records of tap songs.

Disc jockeys from KVAS added novelty to the affair by spinning records and answering requests of the dancers.

Both dancing and just watching make the Soph Hop a memorable dance for all who attended.

FROSH FROLIC

Gays and dolls dance a full evening at the Frosh Frolic.

Time out to relax.

Savage beats . . haunting drums . . tropical birds . . tangled plants . . wild natives . . and in the midst of all this — happy AHS'ers! This was African Odyssey — one of the most unusual and successful frosh frolics ever to be held in Patriot's Hall.

Anticipating the event for weeks, the class of 1960 planned and worked together to make it a success . . And a success it was.

The motif breathed jungle air . . the entertainment was outstanding . . and a feeling of darkest Africa surged into everyone present. African Odyssey . . the last frosh frolic to ring through old Astoria High will long be remembered by all who went . . and never forgotten by the class of '60.

Back to step.

A haedawn in Dagpatch style brings out Sadie Hawkins dancers on a rainy night attired in their Sunday best.

SADIE HAWKIN'S DAY DANCE

Seems as though the girls of AHS really went all-out to make a catch for this year's Sadie's dance.

"Tombstone Gulch," the theme of the Sadie Hawkin's dance, was carried out by using typical Dogpatch scenes, including Boothill, where pictures were taken. Daisy May, Wolf Gal, Li'l Abner and all varieties of Dogpatch characters turned out for the Service Club-sponsored dance. A "spud" dance ,tombstones, "Sadie Twins," and door prizes hi-lighted the event.

KING & QUEEN OF HEARTS

February 14th found a large number of AHS students in Patriot's Hall for the annual Girls' League Valentine Dance.

One question on everyone's lips was, "Who will be chosen as King and Queen of Hearts?" The suspense mounted as each of the candidates, two of whom were chosen to represent each class, were introduced. The envelope was opened and there was a burst of applause as Sandy Hill and Bill Loomis were announced Queen and King of Hearts. Following the crowning ceremony each of the candidates received small gifts. Suzanne Englund and Millie Hartstrom entertained the court with accordion duets. The King and Queen's dance followed and soon students joined the smiling couple as they whirled across the floor.

ASSEMBLY

Patriot's Hall, whether decorated with elaborate streamers for Homecoming coronation, or bedecked with colorful signs for pep assemblies or campaign speeches, has been the "rendez-vous" for Christmas, Thanksgiving and Easter programs, pep assemblies, National assemblies, and Blind assemblies.

National assembly visitors, Dr. A. Lloyd Collins and his wife, demonstrated guns used in American history, from the musket to the outomatic.

HIGHLIGHTS

Memories of crowding into class sections; singing the Alma Mater; Seniors leaving first; Freshmen boys picking up the chairs, and peering around the heads of classmates to get a squint of Strugar, Eddie Motter, the pepsters, the band, or Laddie Morfitt should be keepsakes in the minds of AHS students.

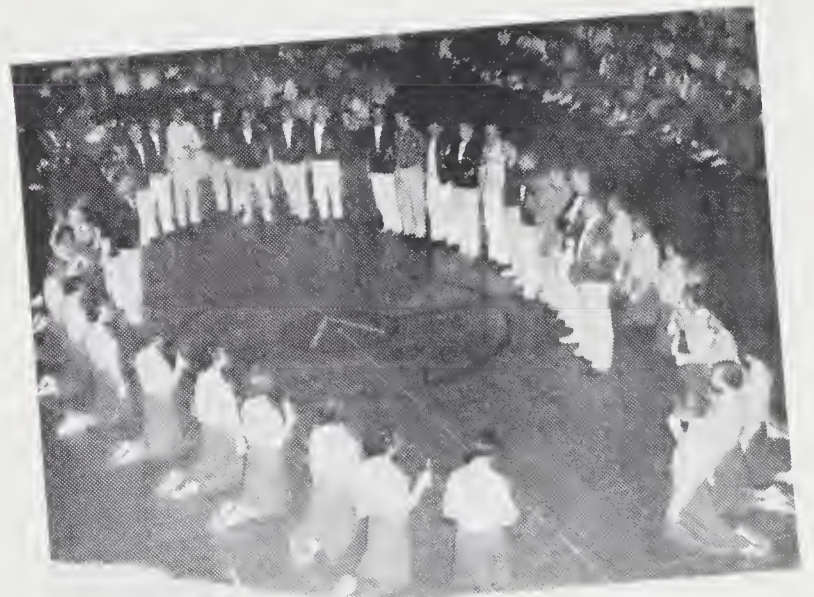

Eddie Motter, blind gymnast, thrilled Astoria students with his daring skill on the parallel bars at a national assembly.

The sophomores capture Gresham's Gophers to recover Astoria's Sally at the sophomore assembly this spring.

The Fisherettes honor the senior football players at the last pep assembly of the season. The honor was answered by a fighting victory.

GL GIRL OF THE MONTH

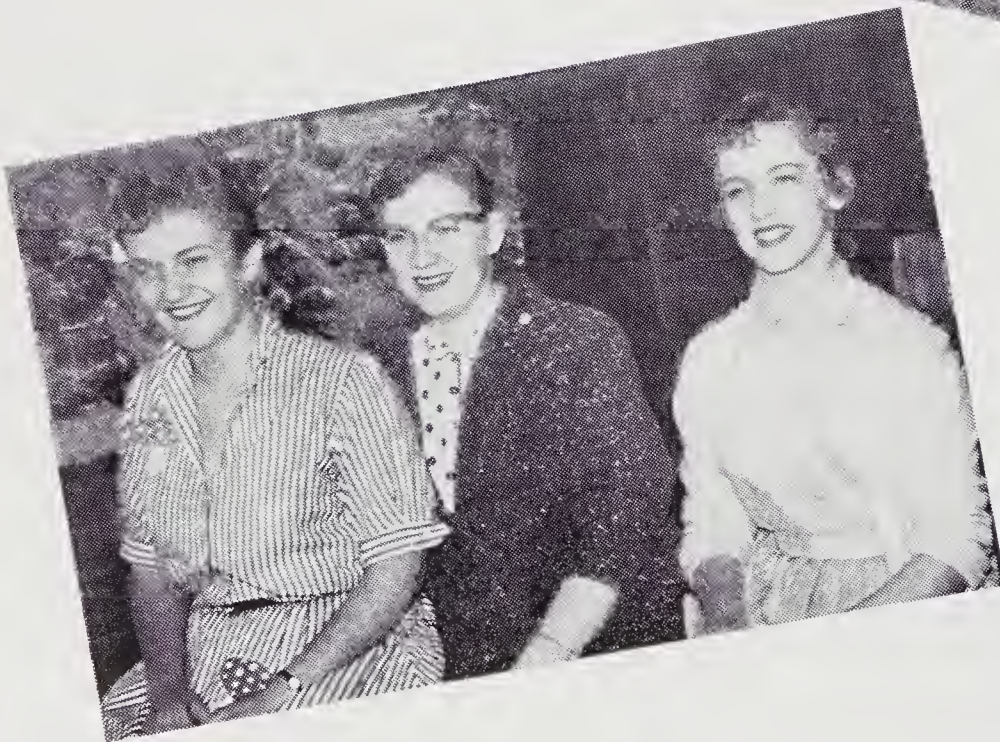

A new innovation of the Girls' League this year was the "Girl of the Month." Each member of the girls' organization was eligible and winners were chosen by a secret committee of two students and a faculty member, picked by the GL president.

The committee's first choices were Judie Smethurst in September for School Spirit; Sharon Ely in October for Dependability, and Suzanne Warner in November for Personality. The girls are pictured to the left.

Each girl was chosen for a different trait, and her selection was kept secret until it was announced at a special assembly.

Pictured to the right are Gail Hauke, chosen in December for Character; Nanette Shatto in January for Loyalty, and February girl, Marian Hauke, chosen for Scholarship.

The winners were presented with silver disc bracelets, on which were engraved the trait for which they were selected and the month in which they were honored.

At the left are Sandy Winters, March girl for Leadership; Dorothy Verschueren, April girl for Service, and Marilyn Morfitt, May girl for Vitality.

To Those Who Have Been Interested

The 1957 Zephyrus Staff wishes to express its appreciation and thanks to all those who have made the publishing of this year's volume possible.

TO the merchants of Astoria: Your sponsorship of our book has relieved a financial strain. Without your help we could not continue to publish our annual. Your loyalty to the activities of the high school is appreciated by all.

TO our printers, the Astorian-Budget staff workers: we are grateful for patience and excellent job of printing the Zephyrus.

TO our three advisers: "Hats off," Mrs. Christensen and Miss Brown for your hard work and guidance and Mr. Jensen for the excellent job of picture taking that makes our book outstanding.

TO Ball's and Nolan's studios: we remember your helpfulness in scheduling our pictures.

TO the faculty: our thanks for their cooperation in providing information and allowing class time for taking club pictures.

TO everyone who has shown an interest in the annual, "Thank You." We hope you enjoy the 1957 Zephyrus.
